Commencement of service: Aug. 26, 1812
Expiration of service: Oct. 26, 1812
DIED: At the residence of his father in the village of Poughkeepsie, on Sunday morning last, Henry B. Davis, Esq., counsellor at law, late of this city, in the 32d year of his age. Mr. Davis was an ornament of his profession and of society. His talents were highly respectable, his deportment frank and honorable, his morals without a stain. He maintained a high standing at the bar, and was loved and honored by all who knew him. His death, in the very prime of life, and the midst of usefulness, is a severe loss not only to relatives and friends, but to the profession of which he was a distinguished member, and to the whole community.

At a meeting of the bar of the city of Albany, convened at Rockwell's Mansion House, the 19th day of November, 1824, Harmanus Bleecker was called to the chair, and Peter Gansevoort appointed secretary. After a few remarks by Samuel A. Foot, the following resolution, offered by S. DeWitt Bloodgood, was unanimously adopted, and ordered to be published:

Resolved: That the untimely death of our late friend and brother Henry B. Davis, Esq., excites in us sentiments of the most sincere regret, and that in testimony of our respect for his professional and private worth, his talents, amiable qualities and spotless character, the members of the Albany bar will wear the usual badge of mourning on the left arm for thirty days.

Peter Gansevoort, Sec'y.

H. Bleecker, Ch'n.
