1813 THOMAS GIFFORD.

DIED:-At Princeton, N. J., on the 18th January ult. of the consumption, Mr. Thomas Gifford, about 26 years of age. He was a youth of the first rate talents and most ardent piety. In 1813 he graduated at Union College and the highest honors of that respectable seminary, were justly awarded to him; but his assiduity and perseverance had evidently impaired the vigor of his constitution, and the industrious prosecution of theological studies during the subsequent year, fixed upon him that disease, which has disappointed the fondest hopes of his numerous friends, and has prematurely deprived society of a life which promised great and extensive usefulness.
