LAW SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

A Stirring Address by Charles Emory Smith, '61.

The Law Department of the University held its forty-ninth commencement exercises at Odd Fellow's hall in Albany Thursday evening. Amasa J. Parker, president of the board of trustees, presided. On the stage were seated Postmaster-General Charles Emory Smith, '61; the Hon. J. Newton Fiero, college, '67, dean of the law school; President A. V. V. Raymond; the Hon. D. Cady Herrick, C. J. Buchanan, Marcus T. Hun, college, '67, C. E. Arger-singer, Fletcher Battershall, and other members of the board of trustees and of the faculty.

In accordance with a new custom, orations by the graduates were entirely dispensed with and, in their place, an address of timely interest was delivered by the Hon. Charles Emory Smith, Postmaster-General of the United States. His speech follows in part:

"Gentlemen of the Graduating Class: I cannot welcome you as a lawyer to the lawyers' ranks. It is not my good fortune to speak as a member of the honorable guild. But as a disinterested layman, fully appreciating its great position and its glorious opportunities, I can bid you God-speed as you enter upon a noble profession, which has been so closely identified with the intellectual, social and moral progress of the race, and with the steady advance of civil liberty.

"One most agreeable duty falls to me at the outset. I bring you the filial and fraternal greetings of the President of the United States. Like you, he is a graduate of the Albany Law School. Like you from this hour, he is enrolled among the alumni of this honored institution. Here he cultivated those lofty attributes of mind and character and nurtured those just principles of action which, in an administration of great deeds and world-wide leadership, have shed new luster on the republic. With grateful memories of his early association here, he sends loyal and loving sentiments of good will and best wishes to all who, like him, honor and revere this cherished alma mater.

"Though not a lawyer, there is perhaps less incongruity in my presence on this occasion than might first appear. For several years a trustee of Union University, I had an indirect official, if not a direct professional, connection with its department of law. Returning, as I am, to my old and beloved home, looking again upon familiar and precious scenes, clasping once more the hands of treasured friends of my youth and early manhood—alas, how many have joined the majority!—teeming recollections of the past come thronging upon me, and I am carried back to the bright and eager days around which clustered the hopes and joys of the springtime of life.

"If time permitted, I might speak of many who extended and perpetuated that early group of legal guides. Standing on the rolls of this institution, you go forth with the best traditions into the ranks of your chosen profession. The lawyer's sphere of action and field of usefulness and range of influence are steadily expanding. The open pathways of success are more varied if not more alluring than ever before. The court room was formerly the chief arena of the lawyer's activity; but now his talents are largely employed in creating the instrumentalities of business and commerce. His object is not to excite, but to avoid litigation, and his best, most honorable and most lucrative service is often rendered, not in the public forum, but in the private council chamber where his trained knowledge and wise guidance point out the pathways of safety, security and peace.

"The tendency and the inevitable necessity of modern conditions is the division of labor and the development of specialties. In the wide range of law there are the tendencies and the rewards of specialization, and while the general practice must always offer its attraction, the demands and the inducements of exceptional equipment in special fields will present their appeal. But underlying all are the same elemental principles which are the foundation of the broad temple of law with all its courts and corridors, and those principles, based on right and justice and equity, are the muniments and the safeguards of the social and political fabric.

"It is an auspicious time to enter on your profession. Devoted as you may be to its exacting demands, you cannot fail to take a lively interest in the current discussions of the day. The alert and intelligent lawyer, with an open and eager mind, must naturally be attracted by the new problems of national policy and governmental authority which now present themselves for solution. Whatever may be your view, whatever differences of opinion may be aroused, these problems of national destiny and world magnitude are calculated to uplift the whole level of public thought and discussion.

"The decisive leadership and moulding determination of these questions, subject to the final approval of the people, fall within the executive and legislative authority. But the determination of the fundamental questions of national power and constitutional right must pass under judicial review for conclusive adjudication. Whatever may be our differences in the preliminary contests, whatever may be our party struggles, it is the exemplary habit of the American people to accept the judgment of the courts. Public opinion does not always accept the infallibility of judicial proceedings. But there is a universal recognition of the truth that there must be tribunals of last resort, to whose judgment all must bow.

"The standard of the bench should be the standard of the bar. So far as your influence extends, it is placed in your keeping. It is for you to maintain the best traditions and the highest honor of the great company whose names have illuminated the annals of the state and nation. You go forth upon your career with the training of a grand institution, with the precepts of learned and faithful instructors, with the example and the inspiration of illustrious leaders of the profession, whose wise guidance and noble achievements in council and in court have emphasized the possibilities open before you; and it is for you to prove yourselves worthy of the glorious record which is now confidently committed to your hands."

At the conclusion of the address, General Parker awarded the several prizes as follows:

J. Ralph Hilton, the Edward Thomson Company prize, a set of the "American and English Cyclopaedia of Laws," for the best thesis on some legal subject assigned by the dean; William R. Whitfield, the Amasa J. Parker prize of the value of $50 to the member of the graduating class having the highest standing in deportment and in the performance of general duties; Charles D. Phillips, the faculty prize of $25 to the student next in merit; Henry R. DeWitt, the "Dean" prize given by J. Newton Fiero, a set of "Special Actions" and "Special Proceedings" from his own pen; S. G. Hatheway Turner, college '98, the Matthew Bender prize, a set of the "American Electrical Cases," to the student gaining the highest mark in the examinations on the subject "Corporations."

The president of the university, Dr. Raymond, after a short speech full of advice, awarded the diplomas and certificates of one year's legal study. The class numbered thirty-three, one of whom is a young woman, Miss Frances A. Van Santford. Miss Van Santford received first honorable mention for the Edward Thomson Company prize.

MRS. RAYMOND'S RECEPTION.

Mrs. Raymond gave her annual reception to the members of the senior class last Saturday afternoon. Aside from the members of the faculty and seniors a number of out of town people were present. A very pleasant time was had by all present.
SYRACUSE THE VICTOR.

Salt City Men Find Edwards' Curves an Easy Problem.

The first game on the western trip resulted in a base running exhibition by the Syracuse ball nine. The Garnet men played a superior fielding game, but made their errors at critical moments of the contest. Edwards was hit freely throughout. He also gave twelve men bases on balls. Sarsfield, the Syracuse second baseman, played a brilliant game. Parker and Robinson for the visitors were, as usual, reliable in the field. Paige did well at first. The score:

THE DARTMOUTH GAMES.

Union Twice Badly Defeated.

The baseball team played two games in Albany on Decoration Day with Dartmouth. Union's playing was below the average, while the Dartmouth men gave an excellent exhibition of ball. Union's outfield was kept busy in the morning's game and did very pretty work. Edwards was in the box in this game, while Witbeck did the twirling in the afternoon. Witbeck was not in his usual good form. The summary for the morning's game is as follows:

FOURTH LEAGUE VICTORY.

Union won her fourth league game last Saturday from Hobart by a score of 15 to 5. This was the second game of the western trip and was very encouraging after the defeat at Syracuse the day before. The victory was the result of the fine work of our battery and their excellent support by the infield. On her part Hobart put up a most ragged exhibition of baseball, and her defeat was largely due to the poor work of Wills at short. Folger was put in at the end of the fifth inning. The score:

ROCHESTER, 10: UNION, 5.

Closely following the victory over Hobart came defeat at the hands of Rochester, Monday afternoon. Witbeck pitched again for the wearers of the Garnet but was poorly supported, and Rochester won easily by a score 10 to 5. Union should have won the game but for timely batting by Hobart, for the score shows seven errors to Rochester's credit while Union only has three. The summary follows:

SOME WESTERN SCRAPS.

Union News Fresh From the Pacific Slope.

'33.—Rev. William Y. Miller, a prominent retired Presbyterian minister, died at his home in San Jose, California, recently. He was a native of Montgomery, N. Y., and 88 years of age. Rev. Mr. Miller was a graduate of Union College and Yale Theological Seminary. The deceased was a pioneer minister of Chicago. He came to San Jose in 1883 and resided there till his death.

'91.—Tracey H. Robertson recently sailed from Seattle to Cape Nome, taking with him a boatload of supplies.

'94.—H. L. Baggerly has been elected by the San Francisco Press Club to represent it at the annual convention of the League of Press Clubs, which will be held at the Astor house, New York city, on July 17.

'96.—Earl Wilson, who has resided since graduation in Los Angeles, California, is now engaged in the electrical contracting business in Mexico.
THE INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET.

Union Defeated by Rochester on Decoration Day.

All but two of the fourteen men who represented "Old Union" at Geneva won points for their alma mater at the meet of the N. Y. S. I. C. A. U. The track team left for Syracuse on Tuesday afternoon, going on to Geneva on the morning of Decoration Day. A fire within a block of the hotel in Syracuse prevented the substitute men from getting in their usual amount of sleep, and some of them felt the effect of the loss of it the next day.

It drizzled all the morning in Geneva, but about noon the skies brightened and the assembled athletes got a glimpse of old "Sol." A beautiful afternoon followed, with a slight breeze, not enough, however, to interfere with the running on the track. DeCalesta and Brown, both of Rochester, proved to be the star athletes of the meet, the former winning eighteen and the latter fifteen points. Griffith followed a close third with thirteen points to his credit.

Aside from DeCalesta and Brown, none of the Rochester men especially distinguished themselves, except Holmquis, who took one and one-third firsts and one second, and Glass, who out-threw Finegan by over twelve feet, and took third in the shot put.

Warner, Palmer and Shepard showed themselves the only point-winners for Hobert. Palmer took the mile bicycle, the only first to Hobert's credit.

Below is the summary of events:

100 yards dash—First, DeCalesta, Rochester; second, Kline, Union; third, Wells, Union. Time—10 1-5 seconds.

High jump—DeCalesta, Rochester; Holmqquist, Rochester; and Griffith, Union; tied at five feet four and divided points.

Half mile run—First, Brown, Rochester; second, Warner, Hobart; third, Hawkes, Union. Time—2 minutes, 8 1-5 seconds.

120 yards hurdle—First, Griffith, Union; second, Shepard, Hobart; third, L. J. Weed, Union. Time—17 4-5 seconds. (In his trial heat, Weed lowered the Union College and Intercollegiate records to 17 ½ seconds.

16 pound shot—First, Slack, Union; second, Osterhoudt, Rochester; third, Glass, Rochester. Distance—35 feet, 6 inches.

Pole vault—First, Holmqquist, Rochester; second, DeMallie, Rochester; third, Weed, Union, and Clark, Union, tied at 9 feet. Winning vault—9 feet, 6 inches.

One mile bicycle—First, Palmer, Hobart; second, Stone, Rochester; third, Shantz, Rochester. 2 minutes, 58 ½ seconds.

Mile run—First, Brown, Rochester; second, Broughton, Union; third, Warner, Hobart. Time—4 minutes, 55 ½ seconds.

220 yards hurdle—First, Griffith, Union; second, Shepard, Hobart; third, L. J. Weed, Union. Time—27 1-5 seconds. (Union College and League records broken.)

Hammer throw—First, Glass, Rochester; second, Finegan, Union; third, Clark, Union. Distance—105 feet. Second, 92 feet, 8 inches.

440 yards dash—First, DeCalesta, Rochester; second, Boorn, Union; third, Hawkes, Union. Time—54 3-5 seconds.

Running broad jump—First, Davis, Union; second, Holmqquist, Rochester; third, Kline, Union. Distance—First, 20 feet; second, 19 feet; third, 18 feet, 3 ½ inches.

2 mile run—First, Brown, Rochester; second, Broughton, Union; third, Shelley, Union. Time—11 minutes, 14 seconds.

220 yards dash—First, DeCalesta, Rochester; second, Palmer, Hobart; third, Osterhoudt, Rochester. Time—22 2-5 seconds.

Hand in hand with the beauty of the Spring have come the gay caps of the Ancient Order of Snakes. They are of a dark green hue, with the symbol of the society worked in variegated colors in front.
THE DEATH by drowning, of S. Leon Bahny, 1902, comes as a bitter blow to everyone who knew him and felt his kindly, generous nature. The college deeply mourns its loss and extends its heart-felt sympathy to the bereaved family.

THE CLASS of '95 will hold a reunion this year in celebration of the fifth anniversary of its graduation. This paper has endeavored to secure as complete a history as possible of the doings of its members since graduation and publishes the result in this issue. The fraternities have been the main source of information. The list is not complete but is as accurate as could be made under the circumstances. A copy of this issue will be sent to every living '95 man in the hope that it may increase the attendance commencement week.

THE RESULTS of the present baseball season show the effects of good management. From the start Manager Tuggey has shown the deepest interest in his team, and has carried out his proposed schedule of games to the letter. With the hearty support of the athletic board, he has performed his duties in such a way as reflect credit upon the institution and demand the thanks of every student and alumnus of Old Union.

AT THE college meeting held last Monday the question of a campus-tax was brought up for discussion. When we consider the difficulties attached to the customary methods of collecting money to defray athletic expenses, the benefits of the tax now being agitated readily show themselves. Every term it has been the perpetual cry of "pay your subscriptions," and the martyred collectors with wan and weary looks, draw out their thankless existence. Viewing the question from all sides, the surest and most impartial method seems to be,—to place the matter into the hands of the trustees, and have the students meet the athletic expenses with stated payments, set down as college fees. This is not original with Union, as it has met with success in various institutions. The adoption of this scheme would place athletics on a firmer basis, financially and otherwise.

EVERY YEAR about this time there is expressed a sentiment among many of the students advocating an earlier commencement. It is argued that commencement week at Union comes later than at almost any other institution, and the many students who obtain positions during the summer vacation are obliged to leave college before the close of the term and miss the entire commencement week. We understand that the only means of bringing the graduating exercises at an earlier date in June lies in shortening the various vacations which come during the course of the college year, and also, perhaps, in beginning work sooner in the fall. Now there are many who protest against any such action, and the question so becomes one involving no little difference of opinion. The Concordiensis recognizes this, and desires to have an expression of opinion pro and con. With this in view, the editors will be glad to publish in succeeding issues any communications upon the subject, and ask that all those interested will respond.

THE 1900 COMMENCEMENT.

The usual commencement exercises will be held this year and promise to be more largely attended than usual. In addition to the reunions of the classes of '40, '50, '60, '70, '75, '80, '85, '90, '95, and '97, the fact that 1900 is the last class in the century and that this year is the 105th anniversary will contribute largely to the interest.

The order of exercises will be as follows:

SUNDAY, JUNE 24.
7:30 p. m.—Baccalaureate Sermon by President Raymond.

MONDAY, JUNE 25.
3 p. m.—Grove Exercises by the Graduating Class, under the Old Elm Tree in Jackson's Garden.
7:30 p. m.—Extemporaneous Prize Debate, and Junior Prize Oratory.

TUESDAY, JUNE 26.
9 a. m.—Meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi Societies.
10:30 a. m.—Annual Meeting of the General Alumni Association.
12 x.—Balloting for a Trustee to succeed the Rev. David Sprague, A. M., whose term of office expires.
1:15 p. m.—Alumni Dinner in Memorial Hall (provided and served by the ladies of Schenectady).
3:30 p. m.—Class day Exercises of the Class of 1900.
8 p. m.—Concert in the Van Curler Opera House by the College Glee, Banjo and Mandolin Clubs.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27.
10 a. m.—Commencement Exercises. Chancellor's Address by the Hon. Whitehead Reid.
8 p. m.—President's Reception.
10 p. m.—Senior Class Reception in Memorial Hall.

Unless otherwise stated all public exercises will be held in the First Presbyterian church.

The Eagle Athletic Club of this city defeated the freshmen on the campus Saturday afternoon by a score of 17 to 7.

THE 1900 CLASS BOOK.

The feeling of anticipation, among the members of the senior class especially, and in a less degree, among the rest of the college men, in regard to the class book, has at last been dispelled by the appearance of the book. The 1900 book is similar in appearance to that of last year. The binding is morocco of a garnet color, stamped in gold, with the name of the owner and Union, 1900, in gold letters. It is a book of one hundred and sixty pages.

The title page and class officers occupy the first two pages. Then follow the "Song to Old Union," and opposite this a view of the college brook. Then a page each is given up to pictures of the members of the faculty. After these come the pictures of the men of the class, with a short sketch of each individual beneath his picture. These sketches contain a short history of the men, giving the birthplace and date of birth, the preparatory school, course, fraternity and anything that the man may have done in college. After these there is a list of the men who have dropped out of the class, a history of the class, a poem by L. N. Broughton entitled, "A Study in Criminality According to Dr. Jones," the class song, a list of the stage men, and last a number of college views. Taken all in all, the book is a credit to the committee which has worked faithfully to get it out. The committee is composed of W. D. Brown, chairman; Stephen S. Read and Eugene M. Sanders.

SENIOR BANQUET.

1900 Men Feast Together for the Last Time.

The members of the Senior class enjoyed their last banquet as undergraduates Friday evening. Only three members of the class were missing at the roll-call. The banquet was in reality, an informal spread intended to celebrate the cessation of active college work. Good feeling and joviality was displayed by every member of the assemblage. After justice had been fully done to Caterer Dobermann's ample provision, several toasts fitting to the occasion were announced by Toastmaster Clinton Jones. The feast broke up at an early hour.
