The Garnet Scores Her First Defeat of the Season at the Hands of the Ithaca Eleven.

Union put up a gritty exhibition of the college game against Cornell at Ithaca last Saturday. Aggressive play was the rule on both sides though fumbling by Marquette caused Union to lose several good chances to get the ball further down in Cornell's territory. Cornell's play was also rather loose in this respect. Union's line held firm throughout the game and Cornell could make little advances in that direction. The majority of the latter's gains were made by Purcell, the left half back, in straight or cross bucks about the tackles. Union made a number of good advances through Cornell but, for the most part played a kicking game in which Marquette easily outpunted Coffin.

The game abounded in exciting plays. Cornell got the ball several times down to the five yard line only to be held for downs. During the second half, she fumbled when within the ten yard line. Thebo seized the ball and went down the field yards ahead of anyone. It looked like a touchdown but little Taussig was after him with a dash and caught him on the forty yard line.

Cornell was not represented by an eleven of largely substitute players, as has been stated in some despatches. Eight regular 'varsity men were on the team. Captain Starbuck was away witnessing the Princeton-Lafayette game and two others were on the "laid-off" list. Every other man who played is at present the best choice for his respective position. Cornell easily outplayed Union on the offensive but, all things considered, was at best Union's equal on the defensive. Olmsted had little difficulty with Taussig, the much talked-of left end. He got around a number of times for tackles that resulted in considerable losses. The Cornell ends were, however, down the field on punts in quicker time. Thebo proved a match for Cross. Namack, the Cornell centre, proved a strong man in his position. Griswold played an excellent game against him. Coffin, a freshman, in the absence of Captain Starbuck, was placed at fullback. Warner, at left guard, is a very strong man. Purcell, at left half, put up the best exhibition for the Ithacans.

The Union eleven played together with a dash and vim that was ready for every attack of the opposing line. The two tackles, Fenton and Finnegan, did good work in stopping the advance. Shaw and Collier fairly held their own at left and right guard. Mallery, Paige and Carver went in every scrimmage with effect. Mallery's knee troubled him considerably during the game and Slack was finally substituted for him. The men were up against a stronger and much heavier eleven so that the small score is certainly a credit to them. Several unfortunate fumbles lost a good chance to keep the score much lower than it really was.

Cornell's first touchdown was made early in the first half, and her second late in the second half. Union, on all other occasions, managed to hold for downs when the Red and White was in dangerous proximity to the goal line.

The game in detail:

FIRST HALF.

Marquette kicks to Whitney on the fifteen yard line, who advances to Cornell's twenty-five yard line. Otis goes about tackle for three, and Purcell follows with five yards. Otis and Purcell carry the ball to Cornell's forty-five yard line when Coffin is forced to kick. Union gets the ball on her forty-five yard line. Mallery and Thebo gain a total of seven yards. Marquette kicks to Purcell who is downed in his tracks on Cornell's thirty-five yard line. Coffin punts and the ball rolls to Union's fifteen yard line. Marquette fumbles on the pass and Lueder falls on the ball. Purcell quickly goes over for a touchdown. Coffin fails in his try for goal.

Marquette kicks to Lueder who advances to the twenty-five yard line. Purcell goes around right end for thirty-five yards. Short advances follow but Cornell goes back ten yards for holding in the line. Union shortly gets the ball on downs on her thirty-five yard line. Mallery goes about Lueder for five yards. The ball is kicked to Finucane on Cornell's forty-seven yard line. He is tackled too soon and Cornell gets a free kick which is fumbled. Cornell has the ball on Union's forty-five yard line. A forced punt rolls over the goal line. On the free punt, Finucane catches and advances to Union's thirty-five yard line. Union regains possession through downs after ten yards advance. Marquette has to kick and it is Cornell's ball on Union's fifty yard line. Gains by Purcell make a total of fifteen yards but Finnegan breaks through Lueder and downs Purcell for a loss of seven yards. Coffin kicks to Marquette who makes but five yards before Taussig drops him. Paige bucks for three yards. Marquette kicks and it is Cornell's ball on the thirty yard line. Mallery smashes through for a pretty tackle. Coffin tries for a goal from the field but the ball sails wide to the right of the posts. Time is called with Union in possession on her fifteen yard line.

SECOND HALF.

Coffin kicks to Mallery who advances ten yards to the twenty-five yard line. Carver makes six yards. Marquette kicks out of bounds in the center of the field. Carver drops on the ball when Otis fumbles. Union's punt is blocked by Namack and Cornell has possession in the center of the field. Coffin kicks to Marquette on the five yard line, who returns and Otis is tackled hard by Olmsted on Union's fifty yard line. On the line-up Olmsted downs Otis for a four yard loss. Otis, on a cross tackle play makes ten yards, but Union holds and Coffin kicks. Marquette fumbles, but drops on the ball scarcely ten feet from the goal line. A fifty yard punt is brought forward ten yards and out of bounds. Union gets the leather on a fumble.

Mallery makes seven yards on a cross tackle. Marquette kicks fifty-five yards, but Purcell runs to Cornell's fifty yard line. Olmsted goes around for a pretty tackle and five yards loss by Cornell. Coffin's punt to Union's forty yard line is fumbled by Marquette, and a Cornelian drops on the ball. Purcell makes a pretty dash about right, but Marquette makes a good tackle seven yards from the line. The ball is fumbled on the third down. Thebo picks it up and heads down the field five yards ahead of everyone. Taussig, the little sprinting end, leads his followers and tries a successful flying tackle on the forty yard line. Mallery adds thirteen yards. Carver cannot gain. Marquette kicks to Cornell's twenty-five yard line. Coffin returns to Union's forty-five yard line. Mallery misses the catch and it is Cornell's ball. Coffin breaks through and is tackled by Marquette on the five yard line. Union gets the ball on downs six feet from the goal. On the kick-out, Purcell advances to Union's twenty-five yard line. Morrison goes to the three yard line and Purcell is sent over for the second touchdown. Coffin kicks goal. The half ends with Union in possession after a pretty twenty yard dash by Carver about Leuder.

AMHERST ABOLISHES CANE RUSH.Undergraduates Vote It Down By a Large Majority.

Amherst has followed close after Rutgers in the abolition of the annual sophomore-freshman cane rush. At a recent college meeting, 296 out of 329 votes were cast in favor of the resolution abolishing the custom. A committee was appointed to consider the adoption of some other contest which would equally invigorate class and college spirit. An editorial from the "Amherst Student" of the preceding week is clipped for this issue.

"The opening of another college year again brings up the much debated question of the cane rush. Whether it shall continue to exist as a time-honored custom or whether it shall be abolished in the future. The fact that it is a time-honored custom is about the only excuse for its continuance. But like many other traditional customs has it not outlived its usefulness? The cane rush was established years ago when the conditions of college life were far different than they are at present. The conduct of college students has been revolutionized within the last few years, so that public sentiment no longer countenances wilful destruction of property and injury to person by college students. Unwarranted violence is no longer shielded nor does it deserve to be shielded by the veil of toleration for college pranks, when these pranks are of such a nature as to imperil the physical welfare of any person. Fortunately the cane rush held last Saturday night was not attended with any serious results, yet the character of the cane rush is certainly unusually dangerous. The experience of other colleges in cane rushes this year has not been so happy as our own. Were the rush last Saturday night attended with serious results there is no doubt that the college sentiment would condemn the custom without further question. Why then should we postpone this condemnation until serious results do happen, which almost by miracle have so far been avoided? No one will deny that the position of some of the men in any cane rush is a hazardous one, yet the custom is supported and even encouraged by the majority of students—a position which seems hardly consistent with that regard for our fellow students' welfare which should inspire every true and upright college man. After sufficient investigation and consideration some contest to take the place of the cane rush can be decided upon which will be satisfactory to the college and at the same time will be free from all elements of serious danger to the participants."

UNION WINS SUIT.Valuable Piece of Property Recovered From the Borough of Queens.

Justice William J. Gaynor has decided in favor of the plaintiff in the case of the Trustees of Union College of the City of Schenectady against the City of New York, in which Union College sought to recover a tract of land comprising half a block given to Long Island City in 1873, for the site of a City Hall. The Justice allows $3,300 damages for loss sustained in withholding the land from the claimants for two and one-half years, the period elapsing since the beginning of the suit.

The Justice holds that the twenty-seven years which have elapsed since the date of the gift, have been a reasonable allowance of time in which to have complied with the conditions, and that, as Long Island City has been absorbed by New York, and now has no corporate existence, it no longer has the power to comply with the conditions named in the deed.

The land in question is a triangular piece near St. John's Hospital, with a frontage of 345 feet in Jackson street, 265 feet in Twelfth street, and 200 feet in Ely avenue. It is said to be worth from $20,000 to $30,000. President Bowley of the Borough of Queens, in his testimony at the recent trial, said that it was worth at least $50,000 to the city for the site of a borough hall.

TRACK ATHLETIC MEET.

Freshmen Win Out By Margin of 29 Points. Seniors Take Second Place.

The annual fall track athletic meet was held last Wednesday at the Driving Park and resulted in a victory for the freshmen. In spite of the raw and chilly weather, considerable interest was taken in the event and although the attendance was not so large as might have been expected the results were most satisfactory. The principal features of the meet were the excellent work of Kline, 1901, Griffith, 1902, and Langlois, 1904. All three of these men showed unusual speed and endurance. Langlois, 1904, will prove a great addition to the track team in the bicycle events. Capt. Weed of the track team was unable to compete owing to injuries received in last Saturday's football game.

The events were:

PROSPECTS FOR THE WILLIAMS GAME.

How is Union coming out in the Williams game? No one can tell. Her chances for success are excellent. Some comparative scores indicate a tie game; others, a Union victory. Yet these scores, especially during the early part of the season, are no sufficient criterion upon which to base a prophecy. Williams, according to every showing to date, has a weaker eleven than when the Garnet met her one year ago. Union, everyone knows, is stronger to-day than at any time during the past three or four years. Last fall the score resulted twelve to five in the Purple's favor.

Last Saturday Hamilton ploughed through Williams' line at every point. Yet the Purple showed during the second half remarkably strong recovering powers. Hamilton scored twelve points to her opponents' blank yet once she was in immediate danger of being scored upon. Union's defence in the Cornell game was brilliant, to say the least. She could make little in offensive play for the Ithacans have a line composed of much heavier and more experienced men. The average weight of the Williams line is not authoritatively known but it is supposed to be somewhat heavier than that of the Garnet.

Last year Cornell was weak while Columbia was strong at the season's opening. Cornell was beaten in a preliminary game while Columbia defeated Yale at about the same time. Before the season closed, Cornell defeated Princeton and literally swept the ground with Columbia. Over-confidence and over-training were the causes. Union should be in danger of neither. Shaw's exhibition in the Cornell game shows that his collar-bone is fairly strong. He certainly showed few signs of having anything the matter with him. Weed's ankle is fast getting strong and he is out on the field again. Mallery has a bad knee but he is playing with a dash that has seldom been seen on the Union campus. Coach Smith is not over-taxing his men but is giving them plenty of fast, light practice. Several defects in the eleven are being remedied and the R. P. I. game ought to show the improvement. All in all, Union ought to make an excellent showing on the campus at Williamstown next Wednesday.

A TIE GAME.

Both Juniors and Freshmen Fail To Score.

1904 as an aggregation played her first game on the campus in the inter-class series Monday afternoon. The number of enthusiastic students that occupied the side-lines was unusually large. As a class game, it was a very pretty exhibition of skill, spirit and pluck. Neither side was able to score though the freshmen were inside the five yard line during the first half.

The freshmen kicked off and, securing the ball on a fumble, showed good form in bucking 1902's center until held for downs on the five yard line. The features of the half were long runs by Raymond and Small. Cronkhite made a pretty try for goal.

The second half displayed generally even play, with a number of punts by Cronkhite and end runs by Raymond. Sherrill and Watson always gave 1904's ends timely assistance.

The line-up follows:

1904.	POSITIONS.	1902.
Lent	centre	Hays
Cool	right guard	South
Kaufmann	right tackle	Bloch, Hoyt
Glutbeck	right end	Ostrander
Sherrill	quarter back	Anderson
Watson	left half back	Raymond
Langlois	right half back	Small
Cronkhite	full back	Griffith

Clas. Burrows, Printer, 414 State Street, Schenectady, N. Y.

HARRY ALVIN BARRETT, 1901, has been elected to the business managership of The Concordiensis for the remainder of the college year. Mr. Barrett assumes entire control of the business end of the paper during his term of office. The paper is to be printed in Schenectady, at the same establishment which has published it in former years.

THE UNDERGRADUATE COUNCIL is considering means for the installation of purity in Union college politics and earnestly desires suggestions and plans in regard to the matter from students and faculty. Open communications will be gladly received by this paper.

WITH PROPER SUPPORT Union can beat Williams next Wednesday. Without that support, the Purple may repeat her victory of last year. Everyone who can afford the fare to Williamstown and return and can secure bolts in his day's work, should go over with the team prepared to give the best kind of encouragement from the side-lines. The management desires one hundred men to accompany the eleven. The number should be easily secured.

THE CLASS of '81 is the first among the decennial classes to take active steps toward a reunion at the coming commencement. This paper will do all in its power to assist the class committee in its efforts. Last year, during the spring term, a short history of each member of the decennial classes was published. A similar effort will again be made this year. Assistance is asked from members of '41, '51, '61, '71, '76, '81, '91, '96 and '98, and cordial coöperation with every class committee is promised in return. All communications and letters of information in regard to the '81 reunion should be addressed to Dr. William M. White at Amsterdam, N. Y.

A MATTER that presents itself at this time is that of representativenesship on The Concordiensis board. There is always open competition, not for the freshmen alone, but also for members of the other classes, so that strict attention to work is necessary for maintaining positions. However, this should appeal especially to freshmen, as a large number is chosen from that class at the end of the spring term, to serve on the board during the sophomore year.

As is customary, all those desiring to compete, should register their names before the first of December. There are at present several good men who are doing first-class work. But, on considering the place that this publication holds in the activity and life of old Union, it seems strange that more do not express their willingness to do so. There is still time left in which the students may enroll themselves. Let all who have a tendency for newspaper work, come forward and enjoy the advantages to be derived from embracing this opportunity.

THE IMPORTANCE of a strong scrub to the success of the football team cannot be overestimated. This year we have a successful eleven, and its efficiency is in a great measure due to the strong scrub that has lined up against it from day to day. But the enthusiasm that pervades the earlier part of the season, is apt to die out after a time and leave the 'varsity without an effective scrub the latter part of the season. In order to guard against this and at the same time to reward the members of the second eleven for their faithfulness in coming out every day, the management has decided to use the receipts, above actual expenses, of the Election day game with the Washington Continentals to send eleven men of the scrub to New Brunswick when the 'varsity plays Rutgers at that place. It is hoped that this scheme can be carried out as it will in some degree repay the scrub players for their hard and consistent work during the entire season.

AMONG THE MANY ADVANTAGES offered at Union, that of the literary societies seems to be doomed to eternal neglect. Year by year interest has fallen off, until now there is rarely sufficient attendance at the meetings to make a quorum. Attention to other branches of work, the rapid growth of athletics, and fraternity interest, have been the causes of this condition. Yet despite all this, it seems reasonable that, as it takes but one hour a week, the students should be able to devote this amount of time to the debating societies. It is needless to give any particulars; but for the information of the freshmen, the two societies are the Adelpic and the Philomathean. Debates are held once a week, and the notices of such are posted at a sufficient time previous to allow study upon the subject. In regard to the prizes offered yearly, the college catalogue gives full information. The plea now presented is that the student body arouse some interest in this work. The past history of these organizations shows their value, and the reasons for their preservation. The societies must maintain their important position, and this requires some show of interest on the part of the students.

VESPER SERVICE.

The Rev. Joseph W. Miller of the Park Place Chapel addressed the students at the vesper service Sunday afternoon. He took for his text the words of Paul: "But this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before."

"It was Paul's motto all through life to forget the things that were past. All college students know that in a foot race the men first are on the alert for the signal 'get set,' and then with the signal to start they spring into the race forgetting everything but pressing toward the coveted goal. This is the picture of Paul's spiritual life. There are some things in the starting of every life that we want to forget and it is right. The man who constantly holds in his mind the picture of his past sin is going to recommit that sin, but the man who forgets his past sins will not repeat them. As with Paul so it is safe for many other men in our time to forget their past sins and ignore them completely so long as they put their trust and faith in Christ.

"Having once started in the race the path may not always be smooth. There may be many ups and downs; many obstacles in the way. All of us, no doubt, have tried to do Christian work and failed. Forget this failure of the past and, ever keeping an eye on Christ and remembering how he overcame obstacles in the way, try again to win the race.

"Looking over the life of Paul we find that his life was not free from hardships. We find him driven from one place to another in a way which would have discouraged many of us. Yet he bore these hardships courageously and went on doing Christian work without allowing himself to be influenced by his past failures. He is even stoned from one town yet he goes right on and preaches at the next town trusting that the truth of his own convictions will in time be brought to the light.

"Let us take for example, two business men who have both failed. The one profits by his failures and makes them stepping stones to higher things. The other is discouraged and lays aside all thoughts of resuming business on a better scale. As a result the blow is too much for him and his life becomes a failure.

"But it is no more important to forget failures than to forget successes. You men here in college know that in every class there will always be two or three men who will carry off all the prizes. But that should not discourage you at all. Dr. Palton of Princeton says, 'It is the mediocre man who wins success in the world. And why? Because the man of success looks back and not forward.' So it is important if we do win anything in this world to look forward and not backward or we will forget the goal towards Christ.

"And then it is important that we should exercise our will power if we are going to win the race towards Christ. God can't use a man that looks back on his success. It requires a great deal of will-power to keep yourself from looking back on past successes. But let us choose the path which Paul took, not the crooked path, but the straight one. Then let us keep our eyes fixed constantly on the goal, on Christ. If we look aside we are sure to lose the race. The crown in this life will fade away but the crown which Paul won by choosing Christ as his goal and pressing steadfastly onward is eternal. My motto is, 'Press forward, forgetting things that are past.' If you run faithfully your reward will be rich, here in college and hereafter."

COOK WINS THE SINGLES.

The First Part of the Tennis Tournament Concluded.

In one of the best matches ever seen on the college courts, John H. Cook, 1901, defeated Arthur S. Raymond, 1902, in the final round of the annual fall tennis tournament. The match was for the best three out of five and the full number of sets had to be played. The last one was especially exciting, for the games alternated between the two men until "nine all" was reached. Then Cook, by dint of hard driving, won out in the two next games.

The other matches in the singles were between Merriman, 1901, G. W. Donnan, 1903; Raymond, 1902, and Merriman, 1901. Merriman won the former, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1, while Raymond was the victor in the latter contest by the score 6-4, 5-7, 6-0.

The championship doubles are being played off very slowly. The matches have constantly to be postponed by reason of football practice by 'varsity, scrub, or class team men. The management expects to conclude the tournament before the end of Indian summer. The results of contests to date follow.

Cook, 1901, and Metzger, 1902, vs. Wagoner, 1901, and Raymond, 1902. Metzger and Cook, 2-6, 6-3, 6-0.

Merriman, 1901, and G. W. Donnan, 1903, vs. Bahler, 1901, and Slack, 1901. Donnan and Merriman, 6-4, 6-1.

Woolworth, 1902, and Barrett, 1903, vs. Argersinger, 1901, and Roy, 1903. Barrett and Woolworth, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Crim, 1902, and Gillespie, 1902, vs. Weed, 1903, and Donnan, 1903. Defaulted to Crim and Gillespie.

The formation of a Y. M. C. A. missionary class is under discussion, but is not to take tangible form until the winter term.

CAMPUS NEWS.

Manager Miller has fixed upon Election Day afternoon as the time for the game with the local Washington Continentals.

Paige, 1900, and Cook, 1901, played exhibition tennis on Wednesday last. The sets resulted, 6-4, 6-2, in Paige's favor.

Professor Olin H. Landreth has been making an investigation for the Public Improvement Commission of Cohoes, to settle a controversy.

The senior-sophomore game scheduled for October the eighteenth, was postponed. It will probably take place during the latter part of this week.

ONLY FRATERNITY OF ITS KIND.

Seattle Greek Letter Alumni Organize Under the Name of Pi Epsilon.

G. V. P. Lansing, '83, a resident of Seattle, Washington, sends a clipping from the Seattle "Times" telling of the organization of a curious fraternity in that city. It will be of interest to college men in general.

"Seattle now has a club which is absolutely unique. Saturday night Pi Epsilon Fraternity was organized. This is a secret society whose members are alumni of American National Greek letter fraternities whose chapters exist only in the colleges of liberal arts in universities of recognized standing. Pi Epsilon Fraternity is the only alumni inter-fraternity in the world.

"Since the beginning of the present century Greek letter fraternities have existed in the majority of the larger American colleges. These grew and thrived until the civil war when there was a great loss of interest in such organizations. Interest quickly revived after the war and today they seem to be in the hey-day of their prosperity. What the objects of the Greek letter fraternities are, probably everyone knows—mutual assistance, brotherhood and the like. The mysteries of each order serve to bind the men together. There are existing in American colleges about twenty large national fraternities of many chapters each, and several smaller ones. Besides these there are several "inter-frats," "class-frats" and "professional-frats," the latter being fraternities whose chapters exist only in professional schools.

"In many cities alumni associations or clubs have been formed among those Greek letter men, who, in their college days, were members of some one fraternity. So far as The Times is informed, an inter-fraternity among Greek letter men has never even been proposed before. Certainly Pi Epsilon is the only one whose organization has been completed.

"The movement was begun not quite two weeks ago. A week ago Saturday night a preliminary meeting was held. Fourteen Greek letter men were present and discussed the formation of an association. It was the unanimous sentiment of those present that the organization should take the form of a fraternity. Committees were appointed and letters read from those who wished to be counted in, but who could not be present. Forty-four charter members will shortly formally organize. Fifteen fraternities will be represented."

REPUBLICAN CLUB ORGANIZES.

Its First Demonstration Shown at Bryan's Expense.

The Republican Club of Union was organized last Thursday and the following officers were elected: President, John McNab, 1901; secretary, D. C. Griffith, 1902; treasurer, D. V. Clute, 1902; executive committee, McNab, Griffith, Clute, Parsons, 1902; Kreusi, 1903. The object of the club is to promote and promulgate the doctrines of the Republican party and contribute in every way possible to the success of that party in the coming election.

The first act of loyalty was done last Thursday morning when Mr. Bryan, the Democratic candidate, spoke in this city. Hardly had Mr. Bryan descended from the platform when the club, aided by a number of others, rushed in and raising the structure bodily from the ground proceeded to march up Union street to the college where the platform was used at night to illuminate the Republican club demonstration.
