PUBLIC SERVICE AS A CAREER.

First Lecture of the Year.

Hon. George Frederick Seward, '60, former Consul General to China delivered an instructive lecture on "Public Service as a Career" before a good sized audience in the chapel Friday evening, November 22.

In introducing the speaker, Dr. Raymond said that it was fitting that the subject should be discussed by a Seward as the family has been prominent in national circles for many years.

Mr. Seward said in part: "I hope you young men won't think I am too old to say sensible things to you and I hope that what I say will be of some service to you.

"There is no more interesting problem for a young man than the question of what is to be his career. It is equally true that the predilections of young men are not always wise. It is a serious problem to choose one's vocation and it is more serious because it must be done when the experience of the individual is slight and his judgment immature.

"The idea of a career in the public service is captivating. Love of country is one of the noblest sentiments which can take possession of our minds. The desire to serve one's country is akin to it. I doubt not that every young man before me is ambitious to gratify so noble an ambition and I commend him for it. Ambition is the main-spring of action. It is ignoble only when perverted. The ambition to be useful in your day and generation is an ideal to live up to. The ambition to do one's duty waits on no distant reward; the reward is ever present.

"The fundamental idea of service is permanent employment.

"The public service of our study for this afternoon is what is generally called the civil service and it is limited to the executive civil branches of government, national or state. It has been the object of civil service reformers in this country to bring all permanent employees of the national government under civil service rules, yet they have fallen short of the object, for more than 100,000 higher paid places are reserved for nomination by the president, and it is among these 100,000 excepted places that the spoils system finds free play.

"The public service is not attractive at first view—less so on further study. A government servant if he loses his position has nothing to which he can turn nor has he acquired any experience that might be valuable to him in the business world. An office not covered by the civil service offers no permanent career. The public servant settles down to a life devoid of ambition. It is as if he heard, 'Leave hope behind, all ye who enter here.'"

Having so far presented only the discouraging side of the public service, Mr. Seward then went on to say that there was another and better spirit in which it should be regarded, and that it is the duty of every citizen not to despair. Young men should make it their object in life to serve their country and not be men of affairs merely.

"Be missionaries, but be wise. Study the system of governments comparatively, the merits and failures of our own system, the system of protection, how to gather revenue, the issue of currency, the supervision of corporations, the problem of taxation. All of this may be done without the holding of office and will ultimately result in successful organization which will defeat the politicians who seek the spoils alone.

"You young men will soon be on the ground. Begin your public service by a private career, doing whatever rewards best honest effort. Do the nearest duty first, and above all things preserve the sanctity of the home.

"The great men who have left Old Union to hold high places in the public service have blazed the way for you, and it is your high privilege to follow in that way."
UNION, 11; NEW YORK, 11.

The game with New York at Berkley Oval, New York, on the 23d should have been a victory for Union and a tie score does not represent a true comparison of the teams. In the first half New York University was unable to make her distance but once and Union held the ball practically all the time. New York's scores were made through luck and poor handling of punts on the part of Union—the same thing that was responsible for two of the scores made in the Cornell game. At one time Union had the ball on New York's four-yard line. The ball was given to New York. They punted to their fifty-yard line where Cronkhite dropped the ball after it had bounded and a New York man fell on it. New York again punted to Union's twenty-yard line where the same thing happened and Trede catching the ball on the bound ran for a touchdown. In the second half Union had trouble with punts and New York made some consistent advances with the ball. A delayed pass by New York gave them fifteen yards around Union's right end and brought them to the four-yard line. They finally got the ball over. Both of Union's touchdowns were made in the first half and were the results of irresistible attacks by Union's backs, ends and tackles. Mallery made several long gains, Gulnac was strong on mass plays through the tackles, Olmsted got around the end nicely and Collier several times ploughed through from seven to fifteen yards. Paige also shot through the line for good gains. Union clearly had the stronger team both on offense and defense and had she been surer on punts could have won easily.

FIRST HALF.

New York kicked off to Mallery on the fifteen-yard line, who advanced to the twenty-yard line. Gulnac made seven yards, Paige two and one-half yards, Olmsted five yards, Finegan three yards. New York then got the ball and Trede made three yards, Cleverdon two yards. New York's right tackle on the third down tried a drop kick for goal but was unsuccessful.

Union took the ball on her twenty-five-yard line. Mallery made five yards through the line and twenty yards around the end. Collier five, Olmsted seven, Collier two, Paige four and one-half, Mallery two, Gulnac no gain, Thebo ten, Olmsted two and one-half. Mallery then took the ball straight through to New York's three-yard line. Paige could not gain and in two downs Mallery carried the ball across the goal line for the first touchdown, made in twelve minutes. Paige kicked the goal.

New York kicked off to Olmsted on the fifteen-yard line and he brought the ball back fifteen yards. Collier made two, Mallery one and Paige three and one-half. Union got ten yards for an off-side play. Gulnac then made four and one-half yards, Paige three, Mallery four and one-half, Thebo no gain. Gulnac made seven yards, Mallery two and again two and one-half, Paige three, Finegan five, Collier fifteen, Thebo seven, Gulnac two, Mallery four. This brought the ball to New York's four-yard line where the referee gave it to New York for Union's off-side play. New York then punted to her fifty-yard line and secured the ball. Another punt carried the ball to Union's twenty-yard line where Trede caught it on a bound and made a touchdown. No goal was kicked.

Paige kicked off to New York's five-yard line and New York returned the ball on a punt to Cronkhite on Union's fifty-yard line. Finegan made seven yards, Collier eight, Mallery nine. A double pass was attempted but was unsuccessful. Ten yards was given to Union for off-side play by New York. Collier made three yards on a mass play through New York's right tackle. Gulnac made three yards and one yard on mass plays, Mallery four yards on a line buck, Thebo made no gain, Collier four yards, Gulnac one yard, Mallery no gain, Collier six yards, Mallery on a line buck four yards for a touchdown. No goal was kicked.

After New York's kick-off to Olmsted who made twenty yards, time was called for the end of the half with the score Union 11, New York 5.

SECOND HALF.

Paige kicked off to New York's twenty-yard line and the runner was downed in his tracks. New York was unable to gain and punted to Union's thirty-yard line where Cronkhite fell on the ball. Collier made four yards, Mallery one yard, Thebo no gain. Paige punted to the center of the field where Union got the ball but was penalized and the ball was given to New York. New York tried to gain but the runner was tackled by Bryan for a three yard loss. Punts were exchanged and the ball went to New York on Union's forty-five-yard line. New York then mainly by plays just outside of Union's left tackle carried the ball to the thirty-five-yards line. New York tried a drop kick but Bryan broke through and blocked it and Union got the ball on her forty-five-yard line. Olmsted made one yard, Paige five yards, Mallery one yard, Paige three and one-half yards. Union fumbled to New York and Trede made ten yards and three more gains of three yards each. Thebo turned his ankle and Paige was severely hurt by a blow in the head and a kick in the back and was taken out of the game, Anderson being substituted. On a delayed pass Reilley made fifteen yards around the right end. Tuttle made a short gain and New York shoved the ball over the line on a third down. Trede kicked the goal making the score Union 11, New York II.

Union then kicked off and shortly after got the ball. Union made some short gains and then punted. The ball soon went to Union again on New York's forty-five-yard line and after a few downs, time was called.

THE 1903 GARNET.

The Garnet Board has held several meetings and the results of its labors will probably be in evidence at a much earlier date than former Garnets. Several suggestions from the 1903 Garnet will be employed including individual pictures of the class of 1903 and many new ideas will be employed to make the annual what it should be—always a step in advance.

The following are the members of the Board, and it will be noticed that the representatives from the graduate schools' societies rank higher and have been accorded more specific duties than heretofore:

THE FOOTBALL SEASON.

A Brief Review of the Work of the Team.

Union closed one of the most successful seasons in its history with a game with New York University at New York on November 23. The schedule of this year was larger and heavier than in former years, Union having thirteen games on the schedule, eleven of which were played. Seven victories, two tie games, and two defeats is the result.

Although about the same team as of the 1900 season presented itself at the beginning of this season, nevertheless there were many obstacles which had to be overcome. The weakest point which presented itself was the position of quarterback. Union had not had a good quarterback since the graduation of "Bill" Smith, '99, and the graduation of Weed, '01, made the 'varsity minus a quarter. This obstacle was soon removed by Coach Smith by the selection of Cronkhite, '04, for that position. That he fulfilled every hope and expectation is no exaggeration. He generalised the team well, ran back punts in good shape and was an excellent tackler.

The filling of the position at right end was another troublesome question. The inability of Olmsted to play at the beginning of the season made Coach Smith and Captain Mallery a little uneasy, but their uneasiness was soon dispelled by the selection of Hawks, '02, and Patton, '05, for that position. Hawkes played a good snappy game. Patton was a fairly good man, but was lacking in experience and energy. He undoubtedly will develop into a good player. During the latter part of the season the team was considerably strengthened by the reentering into the game of Olmsted. That he played his usual good game goes without saying.

The report that was current in the early part of the term that Griswold, last year's center, would not return to college however, after the first game had been played and filled the positions at centre and left guard when Bryan was on the sick list with credit to himself and to the college.

The return of Bryan of the Law to his position at guard strengthened the team wonderfully. He was undoubtedly the strongest man on the line. During the latter part of the season Bryan was unable to play a whole game on account of a very bad knee, from which he is still a sufferer.

Shaw started into play in his usual position at right tackle, but it was soon found that he played a better and stronger game at right guard, so was shifted to right guard where he played a good game.

Collier played right guard the first part of the season, but was put in at right tackle later on. He played a better game at tackle than at guard owing to his strength at gaining ground with the ball.

Finegan played a good game at left tackle. His weak point, if it may be called weak, was a tendency to be off-side too often.

Thebo played a somewhat erratic game. In some games he played ball excellent while in others he played a much poorer game than he is wont to.

Mallery played an excellent game at left halfback. He is undoubtedly one of the best halfbacks Union has ever had.

Gulnac played a good defensive game, but was rather poor on the offensive. He was slow in getting off. He followed his interference well.

E. King, a freshman, as substitute half and fullback, exhibited many signs of the good material in him. Another season will greatly improve his usefulness.

The strongest man on the team and beyond a doubt the best fullback Union ever had, was Paige, college, '00, Law, '02. He played a superb offensive and defensive game. He is a wonderful man in the interference and at line bucking will be found to have few equals. On the defense he was in every play and an almost sure tackler. He is now confined to his bed suffering... from injuries received in the New York game.

As was frequently noted in press criticisms Union's strong point was her team work. The number of plays was small, but every play was executed with remarkable accuracy and speed. Every man was in his place on the instant. This is the secret of Union's offensive work. On the defensive Union was practically strong and time and again it happened that Union seemed in imminent danger of being scored on when the team would take a stand that was unyielding.

Union has for the second consecutive year won the pennant of the New York State Inter-collegiate League. She won every league game by a decisive score. She defeated the strong Laureate Boat Club eleven before the team had gotten into any condition to play. The strongest eleven that Cornell ever put out made but four touchdowns against her. The Ithacans made three touchdowns against the Indians the following week and rolled up the same score against Columbia and the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. That team although somewhat weak in the beginning of the season, grew stronger as the season progressed and the week before the Union game held the strong Lafayette eleven down to the score of 11 to 6. In that game Union's team was so badly crippled that it was an impossibility to have put up a better game. In the last game with New York University the score came out 11 to 11. New York had a far heavier team than Union. It was mainly owing to Union's inability to handle punts that New York scored at all. Cronkhite manifested the same weakness at Ithaca and that was responsible in a considerable measure for two touchdowns. Cronkhite is a brilliant player and could he cover the ground a little better on punts would have overcome his only weakness. He should show some improvement next year. New York made her distance but once in the first half.

One of the most encouraging signs of the season is the good scrub which was on every afternoon on the campus to line up against the 'varsity. No little of the success of the season is due to their willingness to be knocked about by the strong 'varsity eleven.

To Coach "Bill" Smith and Captain Mallory much praise is due. To their untiring and painstaking efforts the greater part of the success of the season is due. Captain Mallory handled the men under him in an efficient manner and by his earnest and reliable playing set an example which the other men could have safely followed and undoubtedly did follow.

"Bill" Smith by his endeavors showed his enthusiasm and love for his alma mater and has won the esteem and thanks of every loyal son of "Old Union.

Before closing the review of the season it must not forgotten that thanks are due to Manager Woolworth for his efficient management. At all times he has labored for the team. He has made one of the best football managers Union has ever had and through his efforts has carried the season and schedule to a successful close.

The necessity arises that the time-worn protest be made concerning the small number of undergraduates who take the trouble to attend the lectures which are given in the chapel at intervals throughout the college year. Pitiably is the condition of the student who is so short-sighted that he cannot see the immense amount of good that is to be derived from attending these lectures. If he have no appreciation of the trouble and expense that is incurred in securing lecturers, if he have no sense of the common courtesy that is due a lecturer who comes for the purpose of giving of his knowledge for the benefit of others, then let him, at least, attend from merely a selfish motive. Discouraging, indeed, must it be to an alumnus who comes, learned in the school of years, back to his Alma Mater to give words of counsel and wisdom to the sons still in the mother's care and finds a mere handful of undergraduates before him.

DEBATE WITH RUTGERS.

Concerning the debate which Rutgers proposed earlier in the term, the following action has been taken: The committee—W. H. Adams, '02, and W. H. Gillespie, '02, of the Philomathean, D. C. Hawkes, '02, and G. W. Donnan, '03, of the Adelphic, met and decided to notify Rutgers immediately of the acceptance of the challenge, and is now considering terms. The debate will probably occur during the latter part of the winter term.

R. P. I. BASKETBALL SCHEDULE.
