VOL. XXII.

UNION COLLEGE, NOVEMBER 4, 1898.

No. 7.

Union, 17; Rutgers, 0.

Since the last issue of the Concordiensis the board of editors has received several complaints to the effect that there has been a lack of variety in the published accounts of the season's games. Our complaint says, "The scores have been too one-sided to make interesting reading."

In reply we would beg leave to state a fact not generally known. This paper has been reporting the continued success of a theatrical company, an all-star cast headed by William J. Smith, which has been giving a continuous performance every Saturday afternoon since Oct. 1, with a matinee on Wednesday, Oct. 12.

Last Saturday's game was but a repetition of the five that have preceded it except that the wearers of the garnet had the closest kind of a call from being scored against. It was an occasion when cool, nervy playing was the all important requisite. Every man on the team realized this, and the result was that though Rutgers had the ball on our two yard line, they did not score a touchdown, and Union still holds the unprecedented season's record of 113 points to 0.

The day was just the kind for a football game and when the team arrived at the Ridgefield club house they found a large assemblage anxious for the struggle to begin. Along the ropes and in the grandstand were many Union alumni, and also a goodly representation of the gentler sex. Another feature and one which argues well for a closer university feeling was a large crowd of students from the medical college whose,

"Rah, rah, rah!
Rah, rah, re!
Union, Union!
A. M. C!"

vied in friendly rivalry with the "hikas" of our own "rooters." Although the scarlet was conspicuous here and there, still the garnet was much more in evidence, and, as the score shows—very properly.

Rutgers was the first on the field, but was shortly followed by Union, and after a preliminary "warming up" the two elevens took their positions, Union kicking off. Then followed the most exciting five minutes play in the game. Conger caught the kick and was downed on the 25 yard line. McMahon was sent against the line but made no gain. Rutgers then sprung a trick that completely dazed Union for a minute or two. It was in this fashion: the centre passed the ball to the quarter back who stood in his usual position and kicked the ball toward the side lines; McMahon, Thompson and Conger were after it in a second and the last named, catching it, and well guarded by interference made 25 yards. When the play was made again it was good for 35 yards. Then Union was penalized for holding, and the next moment the ball was on our 2 yard line. Captain Smith's quiet word of encouragement could be heard and then the Rutgers' backs hurled themselves at our line. It resisted like iron—not an inch was gained. Again the same play, and, "No gain," shouted the referee. The signal was once more given,—a rush, a clash, a struggling mass of humanity and the ball was over the line. One by one the players were extricated from that pile and there at the bottom of it all was Thebo with the ball held tightly in his arms.

A touchback counts nothing, so the score remained the same. Union lined up on her 25 yard line and kicked off, and play was once more begun in earnest. Rutgers made 10 yards on a double pass but then were forced to kick and Price got possession of the ball. By this time Captain Smith and his men were in high mettle and they at once set to work to play football. Keogh kicked 30 yards and it was Union's ball on a fumble. Carver circled the left end for 20 yards; Keogh made 5 through the line; Fenton as many around Pettit's end; Mallery, 15 around the right end; Carver again, 5; and Thebo, well guarded by interference, 30 yards around the right end. At this point Eckerson succeeded Rapalje who sprained his ankle. Then the rush began anew, and after Gulnac's 7 yard gain, and Fenton's 8, Price crossed the line for a touchdown, and Keogh kicked the goal.

No scoring was done in the rest of the half and neither team had a decided advantage. Just before the close of the half Mallery had to give up and was carried off the field. He was replaced by Dunning.

In the second half Union was continually the aggressor, though Rutgers had the ball part of the time. On a fumble at the centre of the field Dunning picked up the ball and made 10 yards. Thebo then made in succession runs of 10 and 15 yards around the right end, and after good gains by Fenton, Gulnac was sent over for another touchdown. The trial for a goal failed.

After the next kick-off Union did not lose the ball once, and Fenton, after a 45 yard run crossed the line for the third and last touchdown, from which Keogh kicked a goal. Score, Union, 17; Rutgers, 0.

Captain Smith was as usual right in the game, despite the fact that he was partly crippled. Fenton was the best ground gainer of the day, but Carver and Thebo were much in evidence in circling the ends, and the other backs in hitting the line. Finnigan put up a strong game at centre and the rest of the line was uniformly good. Captain McMahon did the best work for Rutgers, and Mann's kicking was certainly one of the features of the game.

The only matter of regret in the entire game was Mallery's injury. He was examined by a physician who declared the ligaments of one hip to be badly torn, and this is of such a serious character as to keep him from the football field the rest of the season.

Movement at Princeton Against Hazing.

The Sophomore class at Princeton has passed resolutions abolishing hazing.

The resolutions outline the privileges of the upper classes, such as wearing the college colors, golf, duck or crash trousers, sitting in the 'varsity grand stand, snowballing, etc., and privileges which have come down from former years and have been denied the freshmen.

These resolutions are not binding upon them unless the faculty return all the rights and privileges to those members of the class who have been suspended for hazing, and close all action of such kind against any men still in college. If all the suspended and expelled men have not been returned to college by November 11, these resolutions will not be valid.—Pennsylvanian.

Philomathean Debate and Election.

The Philomatheans have now resumed their work for this year and at the first meeting, Oct. 27, the following officers were elected: President, Dix W. Noel; vice-president, Melvin T. Bender; treasurer, S. S. Reed; secretary, Leroy Weed. On Nov. 2, the following subject was debated: Resolved, That the United States should establish a protectorate over Cuba. Affirmative, Vander Veer, Broughton and Cheesborough; negative, Wright, Wight and Miller.

Scrub vs. Reynolds' Business School.

While the 'varsity was covering itself with glory last Saturday at Albany, the second eleven was working hard but in vain to defeat a team representing the Reynolds' business school of Amsterdam. This eleven was made up of the best players in Amsterdam and their average weight was from ten to twenty pounds heavier than the second eleven.

Doubtless the weight and strong interference of the Amsterdam eleven won the game for them, as every inch of ground they made was sharply contested for.

The game was called at 3:30, Amsterdam kicking off. The ball was returned a few yards and lost on downs. Assisted by strong interference Cregg was sent through the right tackle for a touchdown, Stover missing the goal. Union then kicked off and Stover caught the ball and returned it 15 yards. Amsterdam again got the ball on downs and by a series of end rushes worked the oval down to Union's 10 yard line when Selmer went through the center for the second touchdown. Soon after, time was called with the ball well in Union's territory.

In the second half the scrub "braced up" and kept their opponents from augmenting their score. During this half the ball changed hands several times and when time was called neither side had the advantage.

The line up was as follows:

UNION, 0.	AMSTERDAM, 11.

Errata.

There were two errors among the alumni items in the last number of the Concordiensis, which we wish to correct: Rev. Putnam Cady entered college with the class of '85, but did not graduate. Rev. E. T. Root was a member of the class of '87, but left college at the end of his freshman year.—ED.

A FEW alumni have accepted our invitation extended a few weeks ago, requesting contributions to our alumni column. We are willing to devote a whole page to alumni notes if they will send us information concerning themselves or other graduates. Other college papers devote a great deal of space to alumni news, and there is no reason why the Concordiensis should not do so. Any one would think from the reluctance with which information is given by the alumni, that they have forgotten that they are graduates of Union.

THE 'VARSITY came very near being scored against in the game with Rutgers last Saturday, but after Union caught on to Rutgers' tricks, she had little difficulty in keeping the ball out of danger. The team played exceedingly well, and showed its ability by the ease with which it grasped the situation.

WHAT HAS become of the college political organizations? It is proper that college students should show some interest in politics, for they must become affiliated with one party or another after graduation, and now is the time for the students to form some opinion on political issues. Why not organize a Roosevelt club, and a Van Wyck club? Union had a strong Republican club a few years ago and it should have one now.

THE CONCORDIENSIS desires to collect information concerning Union college men, graduates, non-graduates and undergraduates, who enlisted in the war with Spain. The desired information consists of: Name; college class; name of military organization or naval vessel; date of enlistment therein, or assignment thereto; record therein, including all promotions, casualties or sickness, with exact dates; record of regiment or vessel during party's connection with it, including camping places, campaigns, or engagements, with dates; previous military or naval experience. Any other details in connection with the service.

We cannot make our request too urgent, that those who know of the service of any Union man should send to us all the facts which they have, in as exact form as possible and at an early date. We ask for the aid of all, students, alumni, friends, and especially the help of those who enlisted. No other attempt has yet been made to gather these records, and the Concordiensis thinks that some steps should be taken to perfect a history of the Union men, for future reference. As a matter of record, it will be very valuable, while the publication of the facts will be interesting to thousands of men who have attended Union college.

NOW THAT Union is having a successful season in football, it may be well to look toward the future, and see what the chances are for a winning team next year. Much of the football material is composed of underclassmen; in fact, the team will lose only two men this year by graduation, but we should be on the lookout for new material all the time. There is every advantage in securing men who have had experience on "prep." school teams, because such men are already broken in. One reason for the development at Princeton of so many champion teams, is to be found in the fact that there is actively at work throughout the year, a committee composed of an alumnus and undergraduates who seek out the good athletes on the "prep." school teams, and put before them the advantages of Princeton over those of other colleges. The result is that Princeton does not have to season green material. Men who have played on the "prep." school teams know the game. While other colleges are drilling their raw recruits, Princeton is putting on the finishing touches. It seems as if a similar scheme might be worked at Union. We have already seen the advantages of having such material on the team, and some effort should be made to secure more of it.

Prize Essay Competition.

The American Protective Tariff League offers to the undergraduate students of senior classes in the colleges and universities in the United States a series of prizes for essays. The subject of the first essay is: "The American Merchant Marine—its Restoration by Means of Discriminating Duties."

Competing essays should not exceed six thousand words and should be signed by some other than the writer's name.

Essays must be forwarded to The American Protective Tariff League, No. 135 West Twenty-third street, New York city, on or before April 1st, 1899. The manuscript of each contestant must be accompanied by the full name and address of the writer, together with certificate of standing, signed by some officer of the college or university to which he belongs. Manuscripts must be type-written. The awards will be made as follows: For best essay, $150; for second best essay, $100; for third best essay, $50.

Century's Prizes for College Graduates.

With the aim of encouraging literary activity among college graduates, The Century Magazine offers to give, annually, during four successive years, three prizes of $250 each, open to the competition of persons who receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts in any college or university in the United States during the commencement seasons of 1897, 1898, 1899, and 1900. The prizes are: First, $250 for the best metrical writing of not fewer than fifty lines; second, $150 for the best essay in the field of biography, history, or literary criticism, of not fewer than four thousand or more than eight thousand words; third, $250 for the best story of not fewer than four thousand or more than eight thousand words.

On or before June 1 of the year succeeding graduation, competitors must submit type-written manuscript to the editor of The Century Magazine, marked, outside and inside, "For the College Competition," signed by a pen-name, and accompanied by the name and address of the author in a separate sealed envelope, which will not be opened until the decision has been made. The manuscript must not have been published. The editor, at his discretion, may withhold the award in any class in case no manuscript is thought worthy of the prize. The Century Magazine reserves the right to print the prize manuscripts without further payments, the copyright to revert to the authors three months after the date of publication in the magazine.

In 1897 the prizes were won by two Vassar graduates, and one Smith graduate.

The report of the competition will appear in the November Century, with the prize story, "A Question of Happiness," by Miss Grace M. Gallaher, of Essex, Ct., who graduated at Vassar, B. A., 1897.

Frank Little, '97, and R. Griswold Perkins, ex-'98, visited friends on the hill last week.

Mrs. Elford Gould will give a recital in the Alpha Delta Phi house, Saturday evening, Nov. 5.

The Musical Association.

Affairs in the Musical clubs have been progressing satisfactorily and the clubs, although small, are in excellent condition. Mr. Mac Clure and Mr. Mac Mahon have each made fine selections for their clubs, so the audiences will enjoy good music this year.

The western trip is practically assured and it is expected that concerts will be given at Auburn, Newark, Rochester and finally at Buffalo, Dec. 21. The prospects of a trip through the southwestern part of the state are also good and Scranton, Elmira, Binghamton, Port Jervis and Middletown will probably be visited. Of the concerts to be given on the New York trip there is but one decided upon. The date fixed for the Albany concert is Feb. 4, and it is hoped that our Albany boys will give their support freely.

Very neat pamphlets have been gotten out containing criticisms from the papers and these can be obtained by anyone from the manager,

Mr. Vander Veer, or from Mr. Van Vlack, the assistant manager.

The first concert will be given in Schenectady, Dec. 1, and as probably every student knows by this time, the tickets for it are now on sale. It is entirely unnecessary to say what each one's duty is in regard to it and we would simply express the hope that each one will do his part toward making the concert a success.

Paul J. Kruesi has accepted a position with the General Electric company in Chicago.

Among the additions recently made to the college library is the well known work, "Bismarck, Some Secret Pages of his History," in two volumes, by Moritz Busch.
