DIED: At Hudson, on the 22nd inst, of consumption, Captain Robert J. Macy, in the 43rd year of his age.

Captain Macy has been for many years extensively known as a commander in the Havre and Liverpool packet lines, and was deservedly regarded as one of the most intelligent shipmates belonging to the port of New York. Distinguished by uprightness and generosity of character, and uniting to great energy and skill in his vocation, the most attractive social qualities, he enjoyed, in a high degree, the confidence and esteem of the commercial community, and was strongly endeared to a wide circle of friends, from whose hearts the remembrance of his virtues can never be erased.

Albany Evening Journal
September 28, 1836.
Tribute of Respect

A splendid pitcher has been presented to Captain R. J. Macy, of the packet ship North America, whose uniform politeness and attention to his passengers is so universally known. The following is the inscription:

Presented to Capt. R. J. Macy, of the ship North America, by the gentlemen passengers, who sailed with him from Liverpool, May 1st, 1832, and landed at New York, on the 27th of the same month, as a mark of respect and esteem, they entertain for him as gentleman and commander.

(N.Y. Gaz.)—Albany Argus, June 11, 1832.
1813 R. J. MACY

Tribute of Respect

A splendid pitcher has been presented to Captain R. J. Macy, of the packet ship, North America, whose uniform politeness and attraction to his passengers is so universally known. The following is the inscription:

Presented to Capt. R. J. Macy, of the ship North America, by the gentlemen passengers, who sailed with him from Liverpool, May 1st, 1832, and landed at New York on the 27th of the same month, as a mark of respect and esteem, they entertain for him as a gentleman and commander. (N. Y. Gaz.) - Albany Argus, June 11, 1832.
nephew. There is a portrait of Robert James Livingston by an unknown painter and a dashing portrait of Robert J. Macy, captain of the Black Ball Packet Line in 1830, the artist unknown, lent by the Misses Mary and Edith Rainey.

There are portraits of two mayors of Hudson lent by the city, Seth Jenkins, the first Mayor, who held office from 1785 to 1793, and Robert Jenkins, incumbent from 1806 to 1810. A portrait of Ephraim Hubbel was lent by Mrs. Otis Howard Bradley. A portrait of Major Mordecai Myers, one of the former owners of the House of History and later Mayor of Schenectady, N. Y., wearing the uniform of the Thirteenth United States Infantry in the war of 1812, the bequest of Miss Fanny Jackson, hangs above his dispatch box, which was lent by Mrs. Ernest D. Hoes.

Paintings in the Columbia Historical Society.

From an article in the N.Y. Sun.
CLASS OF 1813

ROBERT J. MACY

Son of Seth G. and Deborah (Jenkins) Macy
Born at Hudson, N. Y., October 12, 1794.
Died at Hudson, N. Y., September 22, 1836.

Married Mary Howard Allen.

Children:

1. George H., born at Hudson, July 19, 1822; died at sea August 5, 1843.

* 2. William A., born----, 1824; died at Shanghai, China, April 9, 1859.

(Mary H. Allen was daughter of Howard Allen and Lydia ( ), born at Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 23, 1800; married at------; died at------, Oct. 22, 1853.)

* William A. Macy was educated for the ministry; went to China as a missionary, and died there.

Genealogy of the Macy Family pp. 222; 349.
Sylvanus J. Macy
Joel Munsell
Albany 1868.
Married:—In this city, on the 8th inst., by the Rev. Dr. Chester, Capt. Robert J. Macy, of Hudson, to Miss Mary H. Allen, of this city.—Albany Gazette & Daily Advertiser, Oct. 9, 1821.