Garnet Players Toy With New York Men and End Season With Slowest Game Played on Home Court

With the New York University game Friday night in the Armory, the basketball season ended. After the game the management entertained the team at Glenn's. We expected to win that game, but Captain Beaver and Dawson took no foolish chances. The team was kept working as if the season had just opened and as a result the team went into the game with their same old abilities of fight and speed. Not a man weakened in condition or shooting and this alone shows the power Dawson has over the team even at the end of a long, victorious season. Many have predicted and thought they saw coming that unexplainable slump which often strikes a winning team and causes just enough defeats to spoil a brilliant record. The slump did not and could not come, for the coach handled the team in such a way that the men did not go stale but speeded up, if possible. By logical reasoning, by comparative scores, and by an impartial view of the basketball situation of the East, we lay claim to the collegiate championship of the eastern States and feel that our claim is just. Whether or not we are handed the record, we are proud of our team, proud of our coach and foresee a coming season that will include in its schedule every team of real account in inter-collegiate basket-ball.

UNION ROLLS UP BIG SCORE

New York was better than last year. We won in 1912 by a score of 50-7. We had the band with us once again and welcomed its return. Inasmuch as N. Y. U. has been losing steadily this year, it was no more than natural to expect the Garnet to roll up a big score. This they started right at the beginning and continued until the end. For a while it looked as though the scoring was to be chalked up on only one side of the black-board. Then McLaughlin and MacDonald broke through and scored four points in the first half and repeated in the second. The other two points on fouls gave New York a score of 10.

DEWEY MAKES SEVEN BASKETS

Dewey's man looked to be a mountain, but this did not prevent Hartley from caging the ball seven times from the floor in the intervals when he was not guarding their best man, Captain McLaughlin. It was Dewey's last game and everyone rejoiced to see him in superb form. We will miss him greatly next year and regret his loss, but are glad that he came out for the team so strongly this year and developed into a wonderful forward.

"Jake" Beaver more than came back in this game and began shooting his old-time sensational baskets. Captain "Dave" tallied twelve points and "Jake" eight. Woody had the tallest opponent of the year in Dutcher, the center, and easily outplayed him with three baskets to none. Dutcher must have stood seven feet high and weighed about 140 pounds. He was a good natured chap and lent an air of humor to the game. Houghton got a nasty fall in the first half and strained his ankle. Notwithstanding, he stayed in and played his usual fine game. Near the close of the game Cleveland and Schell were sent in to replace Dewey and Houghton. No further scoring followed and the game ended with 48-10 in our favor.

UNION'S CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM

"Basketball Champions of the Eastern Colleges!" Sounds good, doesn't it? Sort o' rolls trippingly off the tongue and even when oft repeated, it does not pall the taste. "Basketball Champions!" and why not? Championships based on comparative scores are usually debatable and always unsatisfactory; however, since that is the only way that the mooted question can be settled, Union's claim to the honor is as worthy of consideration as is that of Wesleyan, Cornell or the Army. A searching investigation of the records of the four teams certainly convinces every Union supporter that we may justly claim the title and enjoy the distinction. We can scarcely hope to convince the followers of the other teams.

Cornell's three decisive defeats by colleges outside the Inter-collegiate League, speaks volumes regarding the calibre of the teams composing that organization and easily disposes of Cornell's championship claims except within the restricted confines of the league.

The records of both Wesleyan and the Army are better than Cornell's, each having defeated a greater number of different teams. Then the Army defeated Wesleyan — Union won from the Army. Enough said. Union leads.

Army claims she lost because Sutton was ruled out. Union won in spite of the fact that two of her regulars were ruled out. Then too we must remember that the Army team always has the decided advantage of playing all games on its own court which is of unusual size and has a floor as unyielding as granite. Again I repeat it, Union, basketball champions of the eastern colleges. It sounds even better than it did before. As for Rochester's one point victory in the first game of the season that was not a defeat but in the language of the Scotch comedian, Harry Lauder, "'twas a gift."

The success of the team proves that a small college may turn out teams of high caliber provided it has the material and coaching, plus one other all-important factor, condition. We have had all three of these in a marked degree. We have won because we have trained conscientiously; because after the first game the team was in splendid condition and playing at its best at the very end of the games; because there was not a man on the team who knew the meaning of the word quit.

Here then, is the lesson we should derive from the season's record. The personnel of the team was of a high order, physically, mentally, and morally. At the supper after the last game, when the team broke training (or perhaps I might say only 'bent training') not a man indulged in the cup that cheers and only two of the seven players even smoked. The team's record is a sermon on the value of clean living.

We are setting new athletic standards here at Union. Those standards can be best attained and maintained by clean living on the part of every candidate for every team, in season and out of season. The men composing the basketball team are men who are in condition all of the time. Let the candidates for other teams take the lesson to heart and Union's name shall be written high in the athletic history and in the records of worthy achievement among the foremost colleges of the land.

It is not the intention of this article to analyze the playing ability of the members of the team. The material has been first-class. Mr. Dawson has amply demonstrated that the coaching of our teams is in safe hands. Captain Beaver has set a standard for Union team captains that will be a model for years to come. The team has won because it did its best and deserved to win. It has been well managed and all is well.

All honor and glory to the champion basketball ball team of the eastern colleges, Union, our Alma Mater.

Prospects for next year are most hopeful and we should be on the schedules of several of the colleges who now think themselves justified in disputing our claims to the supreme honors.

S. A. McComber

THE COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

The Cosmopolitan Club held its first public meeting in the Chapel Saturday night. Mr. Pierpont of R. P. I. spoke to a large audience on the subject, "Joan of Arc." He reviewed the life of this great woman, telling of her services to France and to the world. The lecture was made more interesting by lantern slides of all the principal events in life of the heroine. A number of the R. P. I. students accompanied Mr. Pierpont and they were much pleased with the reception accorded them. The club will not meet again till next term when it hopes to give more lectures which will be open to the public.

A REPRESENTATIVE CONCORDIENSIS

After this week's issue the Concordiensis will be under the direction of the new board, as the two senior editors will then turn over the charge to their worthy successors. We feel that our publication is to be guided by competent, enthusiastic and active men, but we regret one condition which it is within the power of the students to remedy. Recently the tendency has been to allow the issuing of Concordiensis to become a monopoly in the hands of a very few men. Two or three fraternities have all the representatives on the board and this seems an unfortunate state of affairs. While we do not want a large board we want one whose membership at one time or another will represent all of the fraternities and the neutral body. It is clear that more interest would be aroused if some of the fraternities who for several years have sent no men out for Concordy competition would begin at once to do so. A greater amount of live and inside news could be obtained and a better paper would be the result. Therefore, we ask that the fellows consider this matter and decide whether or not it is the proper and fair spirit to urge their brothers or associates to enter this field of journalism.

The same old arguments still hold true regarding the advantages of newspaper work. The training derived is valuable as a companion to the courses in Rhetoric and English. This training supplements English work and shows some tangible results of the latter. Concordiensis reporting tends to make a man accurate in statement, prompt in the performance of duty, alive to the topics of the day, especially to those of student interest, and original in matters of thought and expression. It is a field ever open to the man who wants to assist his Alma Mater in some large way, and in this light, appeals to the man who can not play on the athletic teams but who does not want to go through college as a recluse or without having given his Alma Mater some recompense for the innumerable blessings she has showered upon him.

The Concordiensis Board has suffered this year through several of its members leaving college and this has given an unusual opportunity for upper classmen to make the board without preliminary competition. There are still some sophomore positions to be filled and there probably will be more in a short time so that we would desire to hold this up as an inducement for underclassmen to come out for the board at the beginning of next term.

In conclusion we remind again those fraternities who have no representatives on our weekly publication to consider sending out their freshmen at the beginning of next year, if they do not care to enter any men in the competition just now, and we will assure them that the competition which their men will enter will be conducted on just and fair principles. We might inform those who do not know the facts that besides the inducements already advanced there is also a financial stimulus. The manager of Concordiensis receives forty per cent of the net profits and the editor twenty per cent. The remaining forty per cent is turned over to the Publication Board.

UNION CHAMPIONS OF STATE AND EAST

A number of teams have laid claim to the Championship of the East but a careful study of records will show that only four have a substantial claim and these are Union, West Point, Wesleyan and Cornell.

West Point has a clean record, save for the defeat from us, and she bases her claim on the assertion that she has played larger colleges than we have and that we were once defeated by Rochester whom she overcame in easy manner. That sounds slightly plausible to one who isn't aware that the game in which we were defeated by Rochester was the first one of the season, that we lost by merely one point and that Rochester had played three contests before trying conclusions with the Garnet five, and that after one more game, Union journeyed to Rochester and defeated the Yellow quintet on the latter's own court. Moreover, the contest in which the Army triumphed over Rochester wasn't such a glorious victory because the Rochester boys had played games on the two preceeding days and this together with the strain of traveling put the Yellow five in poor condition. Still if West Point has defeated teams representing larger institutions, it doesn't mean that we couldn't defeat those same aggregations, some of our victims have defeated them. And it doesn't overcome the fact that the Cadets fell heavily before the Union boys, and it can't be made to atone for her defeat. West Point made three field baskets to Union's eight and was clearly outplayed in every phase of the game except in the throws from the foul line where the Army had the advantage because our free thrower had been taken out of the game through personal fouls.

Wesleyan has been playing excellent ball, yet she hasn't hit the Union pace. She has stumbled at West Point and again at Syracuse, the respective scores being 29-24 and 30-19. The West Point game was the fourth on her schedule and the Syracuse something like the unlucky thirteenth which shows that she hasn't kept the consistent steady speed of the Union team. Her defeat at West Point was by five points and was not the first game of the season while we emphasize again that Union's only defeat was the first game of the season and by only one point. We haven't played Syracuse because of our already large schedule but have clearly the better team since Syracuse has lost three games, one of them to Colgate, to whom we administered two decisive defeats.

Cornell, at first was, rather loud in her claims for the championship but her record reveals four defeats and that appeals to us as a considerable number for a champion quintet. Coach Sharpe has evidently realized this and asserts that Cornell will put in no claim to the championship. Two of these defeats were dealt her by Rochester and Colgate, and we need hardly repeat that these two latter fives were well trounced by our boys.

The Garnet team offered to play Cornell but the Ithacan boys couldn't just arrange matters. Perhaps this was wise action on Cornell's part because her claim to the Eastern Championship, though already weak, is still stronger than it would be after the contest with Union had been played.

Does it not seem clear then that Union ha

the strongest and most logical claim to the championship? If there isn't a team with as good a record as ours, we certainly deserve the laurels. The press of the country has taken notice of our Whirlwind Quintet and we certainly can't see how they can hand the honors to any other team, especially after viewing our record in another part of this issue.

JAKE BEAVER ELECTED CAPTAIN

A vote of the Varsity and second basketball team, taken on Tuesday afternoon, resulted in the choice of Jacob Beaver '15, for captain of next year's quintet. Jake succeeds his brother Dave and no one doubts but that he will steer the team through a victorious season and try hard to equal his brother's record.

NO DEAL AGREEMENT TO BE VOTED UPON IN SPRING TERM

In a special meeting of the student body held on Tuesday noon, Rogers '13 explained to the students the new "No Deal System" which has been recently drawn up by the Terrace Council. The idea, which is basic in this proposed system is that the same sentiment which moved the student body to establish the Honor System should move it to establish this system.

The Honor Court in accordance with the purpose for which it was established will act as the committee to take charge of the working of the new system and to try any cases of its violation. The system is to be voted upon by the student body each year within one month of the opening college meeting and if there is any necessary ratification the Honor Court will conduct such ratification. The agreement in short is that as students of Union we pledge ourselves not to attempt to carry out any understanding by which we will support any undergraduate for any undergraduate office in view of some consideration for such support. Each student will be required to sign his name to this agreement as he did to the Honor System should it be passed by the student body.

The penalty for violation of the agreement to be that the student will forfeit his eligibility for any undergraduate office or committee and also his privilege of voting in any undergraduate election. The name of the student violating this agreement to be brought up in student meeting by the Honor Court.

HITCHCOCK CHOSEN EDITOR-IN-CHIEF BY UNDERGRADUATE BOARD

Other Members of Concordiensis Board Also Selected

H. Herman Hitchcock '14 is the new editor-in-chief of the Concordiensis. He has been a member of the board since his freshman year and has always evinced a keen interest and offered generous assistance in the maintenance and the betterment of our publication. Having had as good training as can possibly be desired from journalistic work on the Concordiensis there is no doubt but that the new editor will issue a paper that will be attractive and a credit to Union. Hitchcock is a member of Delta Upsilon.

The new assistant editor, Raymond Van Santvoord '14, has been doing lively work during the past year in competition for this office. He has prepared carefully the assignments given him and is deserving of the honor and very capable of filling the position. Van Santvoord is a Psi U.

The newly elected literary editor, Thomas L. Ennis '14, has been competing for a place on the board during the year and has shown that he is qualified to direct this department of the publication and keep it upon a high plane. Ennis is an Alpha Delta Phi.

Owing to the marked improvement in Union's athletic abilities, which consequently causes a larger portion of the Concordiensis to be devoted to athletic news, it has been deemed a wise plan by the Publication Board to appoint a man to have charge of this department. Roblee H. Vaughan '14 has been elected athletic editor. He has taken charge of a considerable portion of the athletic news during the past year and this experience, together with additional newspaper training of a similar variety made Vaughan the choice for this new editorship. He is a member of the Delta Phi fraternity.

The Publication Board also believed that it would be a beneficial addition to Concordiensis to elect an alumni editor since there are so many alumni subscribers to the paper who are deeply interested in this column. This department will, therefore, receive more careful attention in the future under the direction of Arthur D. Sherman.

Hughes '15, W. C. Baker '15, D. A. Coulter '15, H. N. Hubbs '15 and E. R. Doyle '15 have been acting as reporters and are now deserving of promotion to the honor of associate editors. It will be from this group that next year's editor-in-chief will be taken.

There has been a creditably large number of freshmen trying out for the reportorial staff and among these the ones who have done the best work and who, therefore, have been elected members of the Concordiensis Board are G. D. Aldrich, H. A. Glenn, M. D. Ketchum, W. C. Loughlin, R. E. Taylor and L. R. VanWert.

CONCORDIENSIS MAY COMBINE WITH PRESS CLUB

The idea of merging to a limited degree the work carried on by the Concordiensis Board and the Press Club is being seriously considered. At present it appears that Concordy conflicts in a few instances with the Press Club to the disadvantage of the latter. It is believed that a plan of concerted action can be adopted whereby each will be benefited and the interests of Union further promoted.

This matter will finally be decided by the Publication Board but in the meantime a committee has been appointed to consider the scheme in detail and then report to the Publication Board. This committee includes two representatives from the Press Club, Mr. Dawson and P. N. Riedinger; one from the Publication Board, Dean Ripton; and two from the Concordiensis Board, F. S. Harris and H. H. Hitchcock.

BASEBALL PRACTICE

After such a successful basketball season Union naturally looks forward to an equally successful baseball career. As yet only the call for pitchers and catchers has been issued but the response has been a favorable one and brought out some excellent material.

Practice for the same has been held three times a week in the gymnasium and has been well attended. It will be discontinued during "exam week" but the general call for all candidates will be given directly after the Easter recess. About forty men are expected to be out for the several positions on the team. Strenuous work will at once be begun, and it is hoped that the weather will permit of outdoor practice for at least two weeks before the first game which is with Columbia, April 12 at New York.

CLASSICAL CLUB CONVENES

The Classical Club of Union College met in Washburn Hall, Tuesday evening at 7:15. After some preliminary business, the members sang several stanzas of the old Latin song "Lauriger Horatius." Next came a paper, "Three Ancient Quacks" by Professor Kellogg. The three gentlemen discussed were Alexander, the false prophet, Peregrine and Appolonius of Tyre. Professor Kellogg's characterization of these three classic fakers, carried with it a thread of humor, while by his comparisons he gave to present day hocus-pocus a very time honored aspect. In the course of the reading, he established the fact that the first was preeminently the worst deceiver of them all. The second was something of a skeptic, while the third was undoubtedly demented by a thirst for popular applause.

On the whole, Professor Kellogg's lecture was such as to stimulate interest in classical reading and research for the sake of the rewards which such activities yield.

At the conclusion of the paper, Professor Bennett talked a few minutes on points in the lecture which appealed to him particularly in a vein that would lead one to believe that the fakers are not all dead yet and that "John" is in the habit of sometimes testing his own genuineness. He remarked that he felt "wound up" and that there were two voices, one that told him to "talk on" and the other to "stop." Unfortunately, the hour for the concert was at hand and the speaker obeyed the latter voice.

Among other members of the faculty who were present, were Dean Ripton, Professor March and Professor Chase. The club expects Principal Gallup of the Albany High School to give an illustrated lecture in the Chapel at the next meeting and desires a good turnout.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS ABOUT THE BASKETBALL TEAM

The best fives that have been produced in the East are: The Army, The Navy, Wesleyan and Union. Cornell by its victory in the Intercollegiate Basketball League should be the collegiate champion but the fact that league is composed of mediocre teams and that Cornell has not beaten a single high class team outside the league shows her team not as good as it appears on paper.

New York Sun

Captain Van Vliet of West Point said to Captain Beaver after the Army game "Congratulations, the best team won."

The defeat of St. Lawrence at the hands of Union settled all claims as to the Eastern championship the garnet title is clear.

Schenectady Gazette

Union defeated West Point 22-21. She has won the championship with her biggest opponent defeated. West Point by her victory over Princeton and Wesleyan thus handed the championship of the East to Union as far as all statistics can show.

Albany Knickerbocker Press

I am proud to be a Union graduate. Union's team has played a wonderful game this season, its finest feat being the defeat of West Point which downed Princeton and Wesleyan. Colgate whose team defeated Cornell, was humbled twice by Union.

Sporting editor New York Tribune

The cadets were at all times unable to break down the Union's fine defence and despite heroic efforts were always well covered and could score only three field goals.

New York Times

That Union does not play some large colleges does not prove her inequality with them for if comparative scores count for anything sporting critics must concede Union's claim to the Eastern championship.

Albany Knickerbocker Press

I would like to see Union challenge Wesleyan to a game and definitely settle the dispute

Sporting editor New York Tribune

GLEE CLUB SEASON IN RETROSPECT

Our Glee Club season during the current college year cannot be said to have been eminently successful or satisfactory. We had an excellent club with which to start the year and the outlook at that time was indeed promising. Prospects were good for a schedule of concerts above the ordinary and a thoroughly efficient organization seemingly existed.

This situation gradually, however, resolved itself into one of extreme difficulty for the manager and leader. The members of the Club failed to grant it the degree of loyalty required of them, the system of coaching created an unfavorable impression upon our audiences, and faculty regulation disqualified some of our men. These are the reasons for the limitation of Glee Club activity this year.

These disagreeable factors can all be eliminated by the student body, acting as a whole, and by the individual members of this organization in their official capacity as members. Our Glee Club, one of the finest advertising mediums at the command of the students, should demand the same degree of loyalty as any other of the major College organizations. Cutting rehearsals and concerts for the sake of immediate pleasures, or through comparatively minor causes, should become a thing of the past. A Union man's own pride in his college and all its activities should impel him to put his whole loyalty into whatever line of activity he espouses.

A lukewarm interest will never react to his own or to his Alma Mater's advancement.

It is because of this situation that it has been deemed advisable to cancel the New York trip, the concerts of which have in the past been of the very highest quality and which is most important in reflecting either to the benefit or to the injury of the college.

Generous praise should be given to those men who have stood by the Club at all times, who have been faithful to their duty, and who have thus evidenced honest college spirit

In their own sense of having done "the right thing" these men find their greatest satisfaction and reward.

THE LAST MUSICAL

The last of the fourth series of musicales, under the auspices of Union College, was held in the Chapel, Tuesday evening, March 11. Mr. Reinald Werrenrath delighted a representative audience with his rich baritone voice. The artist did not sing grand opera music, but the programme showed the wide variety of selections included in his repertoire.

BASKETBALL AWARDS

The awards committee of the athletic board decide that the following men had earned their basket U: D. Beaver, '15 J. Beaver '15, H. Dewey '13, H. Woods '15, E. Houghton '15, P. Cleveland '15, and L. Schell '14. The second team were awarded the AUA. These men are Berger '16, Kirkup '16, Glindmyer '16, Reed '16, and Schekelman '16.

NUMERALS AWARDED

The following men were awarded their class numerals at the last meeting of the athletic board.

1914 Schell, Baker, Lutz, Wallace, Gidley Story.

1915 D. Beaver, J. Beaver, Houghton, Scully, Woods, Turgeon.

1916 Berger, Schekelman, Reed, Kirkup, Glindmyer, Brucker, Churchill, Franck, Brown.

—:O:—

Some few students conceived the idea that it might be a good plan to abolish the snow-ball scrap this year but the student body decidedly disagreed with them and insisted on seeing the annual scrap if the weather man will permit.

JUNIOR QUINTET CREATES WRONG IMPRESSION

The junior basketball team is deserving of censure from the student body for playing with several teams in this vicinity and scheduling their contests under the name of Union College. This name was intentionally indefinite but led the opponents of the juniors to believe that they were playing Union College and therefore caused them to be more anxious to schedule games. Manager Lutz '14 is subject to discipline by the faculty and athletic board for allowing his team to create such a wrong impression wherever it went.

An account in a Cooperstown paper, which was kindly sent us by H. G. Van Deusen '10 reads in part as follows.

"C. H. S. Downs Union"

"The C. H. S. five, on Friday night February 21 gave the boys from Union College an unexpected trimming, unexpected by either team. The home quintet believed a formidable proposition was up for solution while the visitors felt easy over the outcome. Union gained three point before C. H. S. found out where the baskets were located, but when at last they woke up to what was going on, their game was consistent and skillful, and full of good plays and wonderful basket throwing.

COLLEGE EDITORS TO MEET

On Friday, April 4th a conference of editors of Eastern college papers will be held at Columbia University, New York City.

The conference is being planned by the Cornell Daily Sun and the Williams Record.

An invitation has been received by the Concoriensis and both the retiring and the new editor expect to attend. Other members of the Board may decide later to also attend. The feature of the conference will be a banquet at which Dr. Talbott Williams, Head of the Pulitzer School of Journalism and other noted newspaper men will speak.

An attempt is being made to secure Theodore Roosevelt, as one of the guests of honor.

STORY ELECTED PRESIDENT

At the annual election of the Christian Association held in Silliman Hall last evening Stephen B. Story '14 was elected president of the Association for the year 1913-14.

The other officers elected were:

F. S. Randles '15, Vice President.

C. B. Elmore '14, Treasurer.

L. C. Fletcher '16, Secretary.

The new Cabinet will be announced within the next few days by President Story.

DRAMATIC CLUB AT OUTS WITH FACULTY

The faculty has refused to allow the Dramatic Club to fill any out of town engagements, and already a trip to Peekskill has been cancelled, which would have netted a considerable profit.

The club has been rehearsing for six weeks but at present it looks as though no performance would be given as it is rumored that the club is about to disorganize.

After the veto of the proposed Junior Week date by the faculty, it is evident that the faculty does not favor college dramatics.
