

1825

JOHN K. LUSH^K

DIED: At Coxsackie, on the 17th ult., John K. Lush^K, late graduate of Union College. His private character elicited the esteem of all his acquaintances, and his talents promise usefulness to society.

Albany Argus
July 26, 1826.

1825

JOHN K. LUSK

DIED: At Coxsackie, on the 17th ult, John K. Lusk, late graduate of Union College. His private character elicited the esteem of all his acquaintances, and his talents promised usefulness to society. But he is gone---"The Lord seeth not as man seeth."

Albany Gazette
July 28, 1826.

Schenectady, July 26, 1826.

Sentiments of a meeting of the members of class graduating 1825, convened at Given's Hotel on the 26th.

We deeply participate in the wounded feelings of the friends and relatives of our lamented classmate, John K. Lusk, late deceased, of Coxsackie, and recommend that the proper society appoint a member of his class to deliver an eulogy at the next commencement of Union College.

He was indeed of a good heart and sound head.

"Like the sweet flower that on some steep rock thrown,
Blossoms forlorn, rocked by the mountain wind;
A little while it decks the rugged stone, then withering,
Fades away unnoticed and unknown."

Albany Gazette
August 4, 1826.

NOTICE:-An Eulogy will be pronounced on Monday, the 23d inst. at 5 o'clock, P.M. in the Dutch Church in the city of Schenectady, by Alexander McCall, A.B. of Lansingburgh, on the memory of John K. Lusk, a graduate of 1825.

Union College, July 19, 1827.

Albany Argus
July 23, 1827.

JOHN K. LUSK, 1825, of Coxsackie, N.Y., was a member of the Philomathean Society.
He died in 1826.
Philomathean Catalogue 1830