

May 11. 1855

1822

Genesee Liv. Co. N.Y.
May 8th 1855

Jonathan Pearson Esq
Librarian U. College

Sir - In obedience to your request I hereby give you a Biographical Sketch of myself -

I, Walter Elliot Landerdale, was born in Cambridge, Washington Co, N.Y. April 16th 1806.
my parents names were, Edward & Jannett
Landerdale - I prepared for College at the Cambridge
Academy under the instruction of the following Principals
Rev. David Chapell, Rev. Doct^r Bullions & Prime, entered Union College in 1822, & graduated in 1824,
I studied Medicine, & Surgery, with Doct^r Matthew Stevenson, in Cambridge - In 1828 I removed to Livingston Co. N.Y. and commenced the practice of my Profession in the Towns of Sparta, & Groveland - in 1837 I removed to Genesee, & have continued to pursue the practice of my Profession until the present time, in connection with my practice,
I keep a Drug & Medicin Establishment, also hold the Office of Post Master -

Yours truly
W. E. Landerdale

MOUNT MORRIS, N. Y.
ENTERPRISE
W. 1,000

SEPT 1 4 1966

By Keller

The Doctors Lauderdale

The Health Center honors Walter E. Lauderdale, M.D., and his son Walter E. Lauderdale, Jr., whose combined service to the college as members of the board of visitors extends from 1871-1934, a total of 63 years of continuous family service.

DR. LAUDERDALE, SR., was born in Cambridge, N. Y., April 16, 1806 and graduated from Union College, 1824 and from Geneva Medical College, 1827. He established practice of medicine in Sparta, Livingston County, in 1828. Licensed by Livingston County Medical Society, 1828, he opened practice in Geneseo in 1837; remained in Geneseo the rest of his life. He was health Physician, Village of Geneseo, several years; a member of original Board of Visitors of Geneseo State Normal School, Supervisor,

Town of Geneseo, and President, Village of Geneseo.

DR. LAUDERDALE, JR., was born in Geneseo March 18, 1850, and was educated in Geneseo schools - Cobblestone District School and Temple Hill Academy. He received the Degree of M. D., Columbia University in 1874. He worked in hospitals in New York City before returning to Geneseo, joining his father in practice of medicine. His medical career in Geneseo covered over half a century. Like his father, he was prominent in civic, social and religious affairs: trustee, Village of Geneseo; president, Village of Geneseo; Active member of Livingston County Health Service; served as its president. He was a member of the Board of Visitors of Geneseo State Normal School from 1894 until death in 1933.

W. E. LAUDERDALE, 1824, of Cambridge, N.Y., was a member of the Philomathean Society,
Philomathean Catalogue 1830 (Died: 1893)

Non-Grads Fd. & Union

-4-

17. Walter E Lauderdale A.B. 1824 Union

Attended Fairfield session of 1827-28 from Cambridge

Want middle name Elliot
Want place, day, month, & year of birth Cambridge, N.Y. Apr. 16, 1806
Want place, day, month & year of death No record
from F.C. Waite of Western Reserve

GENESEO, N. Y.
LIVINGSTON LEADER
W. 1,500

SEPT 1 4 1966

The Doctors Lauderdale

The Health Center honors Walter E. Lauderdale, M.D., and his son Walter E. Lauderdale, Jr., whose combined service to the college as members of the board of visitors extends from 1871-1934, a total of 63 years of continuous family service.

DR. LAUDERDALE, SR., was born in Cambridge, N. Y., April 16, 1806 and graduated from Union College, 1824 and from Geneva Medical College, 1827. He established practice of medicine in Sparta, Livingston County, in 1828. Licensed by Livingston County Medical Society, 1828, he opened practice in Geneseo in 1837; remained in Geneseo the rest of his life. He was health Physician, Village of Geneseo, several years; a member of original Board of Visitors of Geneseo State Normal School, Supervisor,

Town of Geneseo, and President, Village of Geneseo.

DR. LAUDERDALE, JR., was born in Geneseo March 18, 1850, and was educated in Geneseo schools - Cobblestone District School and Temple Hill Academy. He received the Degree of M. D., Columbia University in 1874. He worked in hospitals in New York City before returning to Geneseo, joining his father in practice of medicine. His medical career in Geneseo covered over half a century. Like his father, he was prominent in civic, social and religious affairs: trustee, Village of Geneseo; president, Village of Geneseo; Active member of Livingston County Health Service; served as its president. He was a member of the Board of Visitors of Geneseo State Normal School from 1894 until death in 1933.

Lauderdale Student Health Center