To A.B. Simpson

of the Class that graduated at Union College, in the year 1819

(or, if deceased, to the friend or relative who knew him best.)

Sir,—

It is the aim of the subscriber, in collecting the information asked for by the following questions, to obtain materials for a concise Biographical Catalogue of the Trustees, Presidents, Professors and Tutors of Union College;—of those who have received Honorary Degrees from it, and of all who have ever entered that Institution, whether Graduates or not.

That such a work would be interesting and useful to the Alumni, will not be denied; but whether it be practicable, will depend chiefly upon the ready aid which they shall impart. This circular will be sent to every Graduate whose residence is known, (or, if deceased, to some near connection,) and it is confidently expected that no one will neglect to return it in due time, with as full information as circumstances will allow:—some of the questions, indeed, it may not be possible to answer with certainty; others not at all: still, it is hoped that no important facts will be withheld because of their farness.

Death has removed the twenty-four original Trustees, the first three Presidents, the early Professors and Tutors, and from eight hundred to one thousand of the Alumni of the College. Doubtless their friends and descendants will cheerfully contribute such information as may be necessary to illustrate the lives and services of the departed.

The subscriber desires every aid that may help to throw light upon the personal history of those concerned:—Obituary Notices; Biographical Sketches, Epitaphs, Funeral Sermons, Newspaper Notices of election to important offices or stations, Business Cards and Advertisements; also, copies of their Literary Works, Addresses, Sermons, Essays, Newspapers, engraved Portraits, &c.; all of which will be deposited and preserved in an Alcove of the College Library, to be set apart for “Graduates’ Works.”

He also requests that all future changes affecting the answers which shall be given, be made known to him from time to time:—especially the deaths of Graduates, and that the usual obituary notices or funeral sermons published on such occasions, be sent with the announcements, as it is his purpose to publish these deaths hereafter once a year.

Hanover Kelton, Principal; entered Union College Sept. 1795; taught a few months in Suncook, Mass., in 1799; studied medicine with Dr. Jonas Physic and Dr. Abram Potecar, of Camermile; attended medical lectures at the College of Surgeons and Physicians, and was admitted to, and commenced the practice of medicine in La Rhine, in 1806. He was Surgeon in the Army 1813–15, and returned to practice at Oldbury in 1815, where he has since resided. He lectured in the Fairhaven Medical School on Anatomy and Physiology, 1830–5, and has published several articles in the New-York Medical Review, and two larger works on the “Functions of the Brain,” and on “Gunshot Wounds.”

N. B. 1. Let the answers to the following questions be as full and authentic as possible; but when doubtful let them be marked thus (I). 2. When the person is deceased let some near relative or friend fill out the blanks to the best of his knowledge; if he have but one fact, let that be sent. 3. Let as much time be taken as may be found necessary for this purpose, and no more. 4. In case this sheet be not sufficient to contain all the facts to be sent, add another of the same size, if possible, leaving an inner margin of not less than one inch for binding. 5. In cases where no answers to this circular shall be returned, the editor will be obliged to publish such names without any biographical notices, or to rely upon information, gathered from other sources, and, therefore, not always authentic.
X. The other occupations he has followed; when and where; thus:

[Merchant, Rochester, N. Y., 1843-45; or Farmer, Geneva, N. Y., 1853-54; or Master-teacher, Geneva, N. Y., 1847-68; or Professor, teacher, lawyer, editor, etc.]

Some except his regular practice of Medicine and Surgery.
XVII. General information respecting character, services, success, interesting passages and events in his life, &c.

Dr. Simpson commenced practice immediately on his completing his studies in his native town. He succeeded well for the short time he practiced, perhaps it might be said he was eminent, considering his age; his advantages had been good had he had a liking for his profession, perhaps but few were had higher prospects before him than he, but almost of the commencement of his practice, he gave strong indications of consumptive which soon gave evident evidence that he was to die in it. That disease filled his body for several years, but unable to practice for considerable time before his death, he however effectually many important cases and keeping himself in constant surgical operations, of the hard labor he was destined to have been an eminent operator; he left a great task for surgery.

XVIII. Some account of his pedigree and family; its original seat in this or the old country, &c., &c.

Thomas Simpson, the father of Dr. Simpson, was born at Dotingham, N. H., 1753. He was of stout, honest, he had a strong mind, and was well educated for his time. He was a great advocate for learning, regarding a good education as necessary to almost anything else. He was a distinguished officer in the Revolutionary War and received many severe wounds in battle.

The mother of the doctor was a simple woman. She also was a great lover of learning, having read the Bible through in course before she was seven years old.

XIX. List of such graduates as may not be widely known; their residences, professions, dates of deaths, &c.; the name and residence, also, of some near friend of the deceased, that further information may be sought for; thus:

[John Orton Smith, Banker, Chicopee, Mass., died 1848. His brother, Joseph B. Smith, resides in Springfield, Mass.]

James Simpson, the present Post Master at New Hampshire, N. H., is a great relative of the late Dr. Simpson.
AHIMAZ B. SIMPSON.

Son of Thomas and Betsey (Kelley) Simpson. Was born November 19, 1795. Died of consumption March 15, 1831, aged 36 years.

He studied medicine; was graduated from Union College and finished a regular course of medical studies in Boston. He settled for practice in New Hampton, N. H., occupying the home known as the Dr. Simpson place, on Kelley Hill. During the ten years he practiced among those who knew him from boyhood, he enjoyed their confidence and had an extensive ride, was popular and genial, and spoken of as a good physician, skilful and well educated. He was often called to attend children in diseases common to childhood, and was much liked by them. His mind was strong and discriminating. His mansion was the abode of hospitality although he was never married.
