DILLON BEEBE '14

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors, held Nov. 14, 1854, the following preamble and resolution offered by William Alley, Supervisor from Rensselaerville, were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, DILLON BEEBE, Esq., late Supervisor of the town of Watervliet, has departed this life since the adjournment of this Board in May last, in the full vigor of his faculties, and in the midst of all his usefulness; and whereas, our brief association with him, has made us acquainted with his integrity as a man, and his capacity for the station to which his constituents had elected him; be it, therefore,

RESOLVED, That this Board, while it bows with reverent submission to the decrees of that All-Wise Providence, which removed him from its midst, sincerely lament the loss of his wisdom and mature judgment from its deliberations.

RESOLVED, That this Board condole with the widow and family of the deceased in the severe and afflictive dispensation of his death; and that the Clerk be directed to enter the resolutions on the minutes.

RESOLVED, That this Board do now adjourn.

I have tried many times, since to get additional information about Beebe, but have been unsuccessful. I don’t remember if I sent you a copy of the letter.

Dear Mr. Brown

Have you any information about Dillon Curran Beebe, A.B. and Phi Beta Kappa, Union, 1814? He was the son of John Beebe III, of New Concord parish in the town of Chatham, Columbia County, New York, and Cynthia Thomas, who was the sister of my great-grandfather. Dillon Beebe died in New York, 1 December 1817, aged twenty-four years. There is a notice of his death in the New York Columbian of the same date. It says that he was a student in the Theological Seminary of New York. This was probably the school run by the Reverend John Mitchell Mason, D.D., who was a minister in the Associate Reformed Church. It was a small institution and has long since gone out of existence. If you have anything more on Beebe that you could send me, I would be very glad to have it.

Sincerely yours,
