

CORNELIUS L. VAN DYCK.

Born at Kinderhook, N. Y. ^{Jan 15} 1804. A.B. (Union, 1826). Marbletown, 1829-53.
North Esopus (Port Ewen), 1856-66. Died, 1866 at Port Ewen, in Aug.

From: New Brunswick Theological Seminary Catalogue
1784-1911 p. 86

Van Dyck, C. L., b. at Kinderhook, 1804; U.C. 1826, N.B.S. 1829, 1. Cl. 1829; Marbletown, 1829-1853, North-Esopus, (Port Ewen,) 1856-66, d.

He was brought into the church at the early age of sixteen, under the pastoral care of Rev. Jacob Sickles. He was diligent, faithful, and prudent in the exercise of his ministry, in both his fields of labor, developing the activities and strengthening the interests of the churches. He was pre-eminently devout and spiritually minded, as his entire life testified. When as yet a youth, the other members of his father's family as much dreaded to incur his displeasure and rebuke as they did that of their parents. Even wicked men, while they feared, loved and respected him for his consistent piety. His life and character were transparent. Possessed of a clear, sound, and practical judgment, he was a wise and prudent counselor. While his words were free, they were weighty, the opinion of no member of Classis exercising more influence than his. He continued to labor up to the last Sabbath of his life.

Besides the information in the Biographical Oct. 1933
Record concerning Reverend Cornelius L. Van Dyck of the Brunswick
class of 1826 at Union, I have learned that his middle Theol. Sem.
name was Lawrence, that he was born January 5, 1804 and that he died at Port Ewen, New York in August, 1866.
Perhaps you can tell me the day of his death.

Van Dyck, Cornelius L., b. at Kinderhook, 1804; U.C. 26, N.B.S. 29, 1. Cl.; Marbletown, 29-53, North Esopus (Port Ewen), 56-66, d.

He was brought into the church at the early age of sixteen, under the pastoral care of Rev. Jacob Sickles. He was diligent, faithful, and prudent in the exercise of his ministry, in both his fields of labor, developing the activities and strengthening the interests of the churches. He was pre-eminently devout and spiritually minded, as his entire life testified. When as yet a youth, the other members of his father's family as much dreaded to incur his displeasure and rebuke as they did that of their parents. Even wicked men, while they feared, also loved and respected him for his consistent piety. His life and character were transparent. Possessed of a clear, sound, and practical judgment, he was a wise and prudent counselor. While his words were free, they were weighty, the opinion of no member of Classis exercising more influence than his. He continued to labor up to the last Sabbath of his life.

Rev. CORNELIUS C. VAN DYKE, 1826, of Marbletown, N.Y., was amebmer of the Adelpbic Society.
(Died: 1866)
Adelpbic Catalogue 1830

Cornelius L. Van Dyck 1826
Cö-71 713.

Cornelius L. Van Dyck¹⁸²⁶
17B

"C"-?