

1827

Rev. Algernon S. McMaster D. D., died recently. He was the son of Rev. Dr. Gilbert McMaster, and brother and college classmate with Dr. E. D. McMaster, whose memory is cherished by loving friends in Hanover College and Miami University. After graduation, Dr. A. S. McMaster taught and studied theology five or six years, and in 1833 was ordained pastor of Galway church as successor to his father, which position he held until 1838.

C. March 1883.

CLASS OF 1827.

ALGERNON S. MCMASTER.

Mr. A. S. McMaster, a graduate of Union College, now at Mr. Penfield's in this village, will, should sufficient encouragement offer, give instruction in the Latin, Greek, or French languages; he will likewise, if required, attend a class in Algebra, Geometry, Conic Sections, Logic, or such other branches as are requisite to qualify young gentlemen for admission into any of the classes of college. For character and attainments, satisfactory reference can be made.

Schoharie Court-House
May 20, 1828.

Schoharie Republican
June 4, 1828.

1827

ALGERNON SYDNEY MACMASTER

The next pastor (Presbyterian church, Westfield, Pa) was Rev. Algernon Sydney MacMaster, D.D. He was installed, April 12, 1843, for the whole of his time. At his own request, he was released from his pastoral charge, November 9, 1854.

History of the Presbytery of Erie
S.J.M. Eaton
Hurd & Houghton
New York
1868

p. 425

1827 ALGERNON S. MACMASTER

Rev. Algernon S. Macmaster, D.D., became pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, in 1838, where he was highly esteemed by the people and by the then Presbytery of Ohio. He was afterwards the pastor at Westfield for twelve years, and then at Poland, O., for a still longer period, till the infirmities of age caused his resignation. There was in him a noble, sympathetic state of mind, so fully developed that it won the kind regard of his brethren. He shared in the same sentiments with his brother, Dr. E. D. MacMaster, in the anti-slavery cause, and yet wisely promoted its progress. I cannot cause him to be remembered in a short space better than by quoting from the "testimonial" of the Presbytery of Mahoning, as follows: "With a clear head, sound judgment and logical mind, richly stored with heavenly wisdom, and a rich Christian experience, fully developed and rendered beautiful by every Christian grace, he was eminently qualified to a leader in the Church. He was childlike in humility, devout in spirit, tender in counsel, fearless in the defence and proclamation of the pure gospel of Christ, and wholly consecrated to the service of his Master."

Recollections of Useful Persons and Important Events p. 93
S. C. Jennings
Vanceport, Pa. 1884.

ALGERNON SYDNEY McMASTER, 1827, of Duaneburgh, N.Y., was a member of the Adelpic Society.
Adelpic Catalogue 1830 (Died: 1882)

1827 ALGERNON S. McMaster - brother of Erastus, 1827, and of James, 1839. Son of Gilbert McMaster, of Duaneburgh, who received an honorary M. A. in 1815 and D. D. in 1828.

See father's folder in honorary file

1827 ALGERNON S. MACMASTER

Rev. Algernon S. MacMaster, D.D., became pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, in 1838, where he was highly esteemed by the people and by the then Presbytery of Ohio. He was afterwards the pastor at Westfield for twelve years, and then at Poland, O., for a still longer period, till the infirmities of age caused his resignation. There was in him a noble, sympathetic state of mind, so fully developed that it won the kind regard of his brethren. He shared in the same sentiments with his brother, Dr. E. D. MacMaster, in the anti-slavery cause, and yet wisely promoted its progress. I cannot cause him to be remembered in a short space better than by quoting from the "testimonial" of the Presbytery of Mahoning, as follows: "With a clear head, sound judgment and logical mind, richly stored with heavenly wisdom, and a rich Christian experience, fully developed and rendered beautiful by every Christian grace, he was eminently qualified to a leader in the Church. He was childlike in humility, devout in spirit, tender in counsel, fearless in the defence and proclamation of the pure gospel of Christ, and wholly consecrated to the service of his Master."

Recollections of Useful Persons and Important Events    p. 93.
S. C. Jennings
Vanceport, Pa.    1884.

Algernon Sidney McMaster A.B.
1827

1827
F.B.
Algernon Sidney McMaster