CLASS OF 1835

ROBERT M. K. STRONG

Robert M. K. Strong, one of the firm of Martin, Strong & A. F. Smith, having retired from business, the remaining partners, Isaac P. Martin and Augustus F. Smith, will continue the practice of the Law on their own account, under the firm of Martin & A. F. Smith. New York, August 23, 1854.

A circular in Prof. Pearson's Scrap Book on P. 363
Robert McKee Strong

Parents: Robert and Kitty Strong.

Born Albany, N.Y., December 25, 1812

Residence: Albany, 1812 to 1836,
            New York City, 1836-1855

Schools: Albany Academy, 1824-1830
         Kinderhook Academy, 1830-1831

Graduated Union College, July, 1835

Studied Law from 1835 to 1836 in Albany with Hon. Samuel Stevens; and from 1836 to 1838

Practiced Law in New York City, 1838-1855

His father, Robert Strong, was born in the north of Ireland and came to the United States and located at the City of Albany in the year 1800, and has since resided there.

Robert McKee Strong had three children.

Form college questionnaire filled out in 1855 by Mr. Strong himself.
Robert McRae Strong,

Robert M. K. Strong, late of Albany, died in New York, August 24, 1856, aged 44. He had turned from the Bar's active scenes to seek repose in retirement. Having acquired a liberal education at Union College in this State, he commenced his legal studies under the care of the late Samuel Stevens of Albany, and completed them in the office of the late Daniel R. Johnstone in this City. Beginning his professional career without family influence and furnishing it unaided by adventitious circumstances, he achieved in an eminent degree, and while yet a young man, the reward of industry, integrity and ability. Mr. Strong... preferred office to Circuit work... and sought no opportunity for public notoriety.

Retiring in 1854 from the Commercial law firm of Martin, Strong and Smith, in which he was long a partner, he undertook, in the following year, a voyage to Europe, but returned a confirmed invalid.

From: Annals of Albany V. P. 341

Munsell,

Apparantly quoted from N.Y. Sre. Post.
Robert Mc Kee Strong

Robert M. N. Strong, one of the firm of Martin Strong & A. F. Smith, having retired from business, the remaining partners, Isaac P. Martin and Augusta F. Smith, will continue the practice of law in their own account, under the firm of Martin & A. F. Smith.

New York, August 23, 1854

(A circular in Prof. Pearson's Scrap Book p. 363)

1835

Robert Mc Kee Strong

The Commencement Poem of Robert Strong is on p. 241 of Prof. Pearson's Scrap Book.

The father, Robert Strong, was born in the north of Ireland and came to the vicinity of New York, located in the city of New York in the year 1801, and her mother resided there.

Robert Mc Kee Strong had three children:

One College Omnisciences filled and in 1855 by Mrs. Strong himself.
May 3, 1855

To

R. W. Strong

of the Class that graduated at Union College, in the year 1855

(or, if deceased, to the friend or relative who knew him best.)

Sir,—

It is the aim of the subscriber, in collecting the information asked for by the following questions, to obtain materials for a concise Biographical Catalogue of the Trustees, Presidents, Professors and Tutors of Union College:—of those who have received Honorary Degrees from it, and of all who have ever entered that Institution, whether Graduates or not.

That such a work would be interesting and useful to the Alumni, will not be denied; but whether it be practicable, will depend chiefly upon the ready aid which they shall impart. This circular will be sent to every Graduate whose residence is known, (or, if deceased, to some near connection,) and it is confidently expected that no one will neglect to return it in due time, with as full information as circumstances will allow:—some of the questions, indeed, it may not be possible to answer with certainty; others not at all: still, it is hoped that no important facts will be withheld because of their farness.

Death has removed the twenty-four original Trustees, the first three Presidents, the early Professors and Tutors, and from eight hundred to one thousand of the Alumni of the College. Doubtless their friends and descendants will cheerfully contribute such information as may be necessary to illustrate the lives and services of the departed.

The subscriber desires every aid that may help to throw light upon the personal history of those concerned:—Obituary Notices; Biographical Sketches, Epitaphs, Funeral Sermons, Newspaper Notices of election to important offices or stations, Business Cards and Advertisements; also, copies of their Literary Works, Addresses, Sermons, Essays, Newspapers, engraved Portraits, &c.; all of which will be deposited and preserved in an Alcove of the College Library, to be set apart for “Graduates’ Works.”

He also requests that all future changes affecting the answers which shall be given, be made known to him from time to time:—especially the deaths of Graduates, and that the usual obituary notices or funeral sermons published on such occasions, be sent with the announcements, as it is his purpose to publish these deaths hereafter once a year.

JONATHAN PEARSON, Librarian.

SECTIONS OF BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES FOR THE PROPOSED CATALOGUE.

John Glidden Brown was born in Quinnipeck, N. Y., May 2, 1800; parents, James and Elizabeth (Glidden) Brown, who moved to Epsom, N. Y., in 1806. He was prepared for College at Hollerbergh High School, under the instruction of Rev. Moses Johnson, and entered Union College Jan. 1817. He studied law with Hon. Septimus H. Smith, of Great Falls; was admitted to the bar in 1821; and commenced the practice of law in Albany, with James S. Van Hoesen, Esq. In 1830 he moved to New-York City, which, thereafter, became his residence. He was Member of N. Y. Assembly 1832–5; State Senator 1836–8; Member of Congress 1839–41; and Judge of the Superior Court 1842–6. He died June 30, 1849, of cholera, aged 49 years. Besides occasional speeches, orations and opinions, he wrote a work on constitutional law, and edited the N. Y. State Papers. He received the Degree of LL. D. from Hamilton College in 1846.

Joseph Henshaw Luther was born in Hanover, Mass., June 1, 1798; parents, Joseph and Madeline (Henshaw) Luther; prepared for College at Yorkville Academy, John Almy, Esq., Principal; and entered Union College Sept. 1814. He taught, 1818–20, in East Philadelphia, (Penn.) High School; graduated at Princeton Theological Seminary in 1823; and was ordained Sept. 25, 1828, at Marbletown, N. Y.; and was Pastor of the Presbyterian Church till 1825. He was Pastor of the 1st Congregational Church of Haselton, Conn., 1825–30; Professor of Rhetoric in Erie College 1831–40; retired on account of ill health, and now resides in Philadelphia, Pa. He has published six sermons on various occasions; a series of lectures on Rhetoric and Belles Lettres, and the “Communicant’s Companion.” He received the Degree of D. D. from the Hudson University in 1842.

Thomas Pennington Radway was born Feb. 23, 1778, in Benton, N. Y; parents, John Harmony and Mary (Pennington) Radway; was prepared for College at High Holmes School, Rev. Hanover Kelton, Principal; entered Union College Sept. 1799; taught a few months in Suncook, Mass., in 1799; studied medicine with Dr. Jonas Physic and Dr. Abram Potezor, of Charlestown; attended medical lectures at the College of Surgeons and Physicians, and was admitted to, and commenced the practice of medicine in La Rhine, in 1806. He was Surgeon in the Army 1813–15, and returned to practice at Oldbury in 1815, where he has since resided. He lectured in the Fairhaven Medical School on Anatomy and Physiology, 1830–5, and has published several articles in the New-York Medical Review, and two larger works on the “Functions of the Brain,” and on “Gunshot Wounds.”

N. B. 1. Let the answers to the following questions be as full and authentic as possible: but when doubtful, let them be marked thus (?). 2. When the person is deceased, let some near relative or friend fill out the blanks to the best of his knowledge; if he have but one fact, let that be sent. 3. Let as much time be taken as may be found necessary for this purpose, and no more. 4. In case this sheet be not sufficient to contain all the facts to be sent, add another of the same size, if possible, leaving an inner margin of not less than one inch for binding. 5. In cases where no answer to this circular shall be returned, the editor will be obliged to publish such names without any biographical notices, or to rely upon information, gathered from other sources, and, therefore, not always authentic.
XI. The important offices he has held, with dates; thus:—

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Office</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>[position 1]</td>
<td>[date 1]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>[position 2]</td>
<td>[date 2]</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

XII. The Literary or Scientific Works he has written or edited.

[Copy space for the "Grades above" in College Library]

XIII. The names of his relatives who graduated at Union College.

XIV. The literary, professional, or honorary titles he received; from whence, with dates; thus:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Institution</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>[Title 1]</td>
<td>[Institution 1]</td>
<td>[Date 1]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>[Title 2]</td>
<td>[Institution 2]</td>
<td>[Date 2]</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

XV. Is there an engraved portrait of him?

[Yes or no, copy space for his signature, are selected for College Library]

XVI. The date, circumstances, and place of his death.

[Note any printed notice, biographical sketch, funeral service, etc. In every assurance there space will be required to answer this and the three following questions, in which case add an additional sheet]
XVII. General information respecting character, services, success, interesting passages and events in his life, &c.

XVIII. Some account of his pedigree and family; its original seat in this or the old country, &c., &c.

His father, Robert Strong, born April 3, 1740, and born in the South of Scotland, came to the United States in the year 1600, in which he had his son in 1607. He died near Medford, Mass., in the present tribe in 1609, and had 11 children, of whom now survive:

the family of Strong, are Protestant; it descended from the family of "Strang" at Dalhadin, in Scotland, who settled in Ulster in the reign of King James the 1st.

[1 girl of age of 11. 4 children, 2 boys.]

XIX. List of such graduates as may not be widely known; their residences, professions, dates of deaths, &c.; the name and residence, also, of some near friend of the deceased, that further information may be sought for; thus:

ROBERT M. K. STRONG.

Robert M. K. Strong, late of Albany, died in New York, August 24, 1856, aged 44. Among the members of the bar who had turned from its active scenes to seek repose in retirement, and who have been called to leave to life itself the farewell they had uttered to their profession, few have been more missed or more sincerely mourned than the late Robert M. K. Strong. Having acquired a liberal education at Union College in this State, he commenced his legal studies under the care of the late Samuel Stevens of Albany, and completed them in the office of the late Daniel B. Talmadge, in this city. Beginning his professional career without family influence, and pursuing it unaided by adventitious circumstances he achieved in an eminent degree, and while yet young man, the reward of industry, integrity and ability. From inclination and aptitude, Mr. Strong participated in the important labors and consultations of the office, rather than in the more conspicuous duties of the court. While he sought no opportunity for public notoriety, he attained the confidence of clients and the esteem of his professional brethren. Retiring in 1854, from the commercial law firm of Martin, Strong & Smiths, in which he was long a partner, he undertook, in the following year a voyage to Europe, but returned a confirmed invalid. Years of arduous application had been intermitted in vain, or too late. Disease, which shattered a constitution, not of the firmest, disordered for a time a mind distinguished for its healthful balance. Under such circumstances, death came at last in the form of relief. As his friends could not hope to welcome him back to life, they could hardly mourn his release from the dark valley whose shadows to him were deepened by a mental cloud. He died in the prime of life—his age little exceeding forty—leaving to an interesting family the bereaved enjoyment of accumulations which he had designed to share with them in his coveted retirement.

"When hearts whose truth was proven
Like his are laid in earth,
There should an wreath be woven
To tell the world their worth."

He was a man of directness, sincerity and heart. These qualities gave a manly gentleness to his manner, and endeared him to many, whose recollections will supply omissions in this imperfect tribute to his memory.—N.Y. Eve. Post.

Annals of Albany v. 8 p. 341

Munsell.
CLASS OF 1835

ROBERT M. K. STRONG

Died: In this city, on the 24th ult., Robert M. K. Strong, Counsellor, formerly of Albany, aged 43 years and 8 months.

Among the members of the bar who had turned from its active scenes to seek repose in retirement, and who have been called to leave to life itself the farewell they had uttered to their profession, few have been more missed or more sincerely mourned than the late Robert M. K. Strong--Having acquired a liberal education at Union College in this State, he commenced his legal studies under the care of the late Samuel Stevens of Albany, and completed them in the office of the late Daniel B. Talmadge, in this city. Beginning his professional career without family influence and pursuing it unaided by adventitious circumstances he achieved in an eminent degree, and while yet a young man, the reward of integrity, industry and ability. From inclination and aptitude, Mr. Strong participated in the important labors and consultations of the "the office", rather than in the more conspicuous duties of "court."

While he sought no opportunity for public notoriety, he attained the confidence of clients and the esteem of his professional brethren. Retiring to 1854, from the commercial law firm of Martin, Strong & Smiths, in which he was long a partner, he undertook, in the following year, a voyage to Europe, but returned a confirmed invalid. Years of arduous application had been intermitted in vain--or too late. Disease, which shattered a constitution not of the firmest disordered for a time a mind disting. used for its healthful balance. Under such circumstances, death came at last in the form of relief. As his friends could not hope to welcome him back to life, they could hardly mourn his relapse from the dark valley whose shadows to him were deepened by a mental cloud. He died in the prime of life--his age little exceeding forty--leaving to an interesting family the bereaved enjoyment of accumulations which he had designed to share with them in his coveted retirement.

"When hearts whose truth was proven
Like his are laid in earth,
There should be a wreath be woven
To tell the world their worth."

He was a man of directness, sincerity and heart. These qualities gave a manly gentleness to his manner, and endeared him to many, whose recollections will supply omissions in this imperfect tribute to his memory.--N. Y. Eve. Post.

Prof. Pearson's Scrap Book p. 405
ROBERT McK. STRONG 1835

The Commencement Poem of Robert Strong is on p. 291 of Prof. Pearson's Scrap Book.

ROBERT McKay STRONG, B.A., '35, M.A., Ø. B. K.

Died, August 24, 1856.

From: Kappa Alpha in U. C. 1825-1915